CITY SOLICITOR OPPOSED TO THE ACT

Slated for Hearing Tomorrow Morning

SAYS CHARTER NOT TO BE TINKERED WITH

Act Would Put Building Inspector Under Civil Service, But New Charter Fills the Bill

If there's a job on Uncle Sam's list, the United States that isn't under civil service let the man who has it hold up his right hand! This exclamation was made at city hall this morning and in connection with a discussion of the general modus operandi of civil service and we are not privileged to print all that was said. Suffice it to say that some favor civil service and some are "agin" it.

The discussion arose over a hearing to be held at the state house at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow forenoon. The hearing will have to do with an act relative to building inspectors and building commissioners, putting them under the civil service rules. The act reads as follows:

The civil service rules established under the provisions of chapter 19, of the revised laws and amendments thereto, shall apply to all building commissioners and building inspectors employed in any city or town of the commonwealth, other than the city of Boston, where they have the enforcing of the building laws and other duties, and all appointments heretofore made to such positions shall be made in accordance with said rules.

City Solicitor Hennessy will attend the hearing and will ask that the bill may not apply to Lowell. "This bill tinkers with the charter," said City Solicitor Hennessy, "and if passed Lowell should be exempt. There is absolutely no necessity for its enactment here. The new charter has already placed the inspector of buildings under civil service. All administrative officers created by and under the new charter are under civil service except so far as appointment is concerned."

Assistant Superintendent of Edson Cemetery Dies Suddenly

Robert J. Gilmore, assistant superintendent of the Edson cemetery, died very suddenly last night at his home, 25 Jenness street, of pneumonia, aged 48 years. He had been sick for about two weeks but his condition was not considered serious until yesterday morning when he took a bad turn from which he did not rally.

Mr. Gilmore was a former superintendent of the Edson cemetery and was very much interested in the work. "Mr. Gilmore was more responsible than any other man," said Commissioner Cummings today, "for the splendid condition of the Edson cemetery at the present time."

Commissioner Cummings' department includes public cemeteries and he placed great reliance in Mr. Gilmore whom he looked upon as competent, trustworthy and obliging. "By the death of Mr. Gilmore," said Mr. Cummings, "the city has lost a good man. He was very much interested in his work and his ability, honesty and integrity were never questioned. He was well liked by lot owners and was very obliging with everybody. It was Mr. Gilmore who suggested the new house at the cemetery and he was always solicitous for the welfare and convenience of lot owners. He would go to other cities for the purpose of looking over cemeteries and he always had some valuable suggestion to offer. As expressions of sympathy during the final illness and at the death of our beloved daughter and sister, Mrs. Margaret Hennessy. To one and all we are deeply grateful.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCoy and Family.

THE LATE ROBERT J. GILMORE

a man and a public servant I admired Mr. Gilmore very much and his family have my sincere sympathy in their sad bereavement." Mr. Gilmore leaves a wife, Maude; a brother, William J., and a sister, Margaret.

Dr. William N. Ferrin, president of Civic-University, Forest Grove, Oregon, was a visitor at The Sun office today. Dr. Ferrin is a brother of Rev. Mr. Ferrin of the High street church. He speaks very highly of the system of direct legislation in force in Oregon which has the initiative, the referendum and the recall in full force. Women vote in that state for the first time this year, they being appointed on juries and election committees. At the recent election, the women who help to count the ballots were kept up all night. The women are taking hold of political questions he says as never before.

Must be in by Saturday—Mayor's Departments Return Money to General Treasury

All of the department estimates for the year 1913 have not been received at city hall, and the time limit is up on Saturday. The financial report for the year went to the printer today, and if the printer is "on the job" it ought to be ready for distribution in a few days. Despite the fact that the year 1912 was more or less strenuous, most of the departments, it is said, will make a good showing. The departments over which the mayor has control have made a particularly good showing. The police department, the law department and the mayor's own department will return money to the general treasury. The figure jugglers, however, declare that more money will be required in 1913 than in 1912 and that the income will be less, and this, it is said, will be made plain in a statement soon to be published.

More Insurance Money

The mayor will ask for more insurance money this year than was appropriated last year. The sum of $4000 was appropriated last year and this year $4500 will be asked. The mayor explained this matter very fully this forenoon, and it is very evident that he has had his business and judicial eye on the insurance end.

The total amount of premiums due on policies that will expire in 1913 will figure over $3000. When the mayor first took the matter up he discovered that a number of policies were written for one year only and when the policies were renewed he had them renewed for three years. A three year policy does not cost any more than a two year policy and a three year policy represents a saving of one year.

Jumping from a one to a three year policy doubled the cost of the premiums at the time but it meant an ultimate saving just the same. By adopting the three year policy and in some cases, perhaps, a five year policy in all of the one year policies to expire in 1913, the mayor allows that he will be able to make a very substantial saving and one that will reflect itself in future years.

New and Extra Insurance

Considerable new insurance was placed in 1912 and this, too, sounds the trumpet for more money. New insurance has been placed on the police station and for the first time insurance was placed on the Gamewell telegraph system at the police station. This is a very valuable system and it was poor judgment as well as poor business not to have it insured. New insurance was added to the equipment at the industrial school. About all of the equipment was given the school by the mills and other local and out of town concerns and a great deal more is pledged all of which will be insured according as it is installed. The new health department stable comes under the head of new insurance and extra insurance has been added to the pauper department stables. Extra insurance has also been added to city hall and the amount carried on the city hall at the present time is $170,000.

Increase in Salaries

Mayor O'Donnell said today that he would be glad to increase the pay or salary of at least two city officials if conditions and circumstances warranted such advancement. The mayor spoke of the very small amount that is being paid Dr. B. Smith, the city bacteriologist. Dr. Smith is considered one of the cleverest bacteriologists in the country and some very flattering things have been said about him by members of the state board of health. Dr. Smith receives only $800 a year from the city, while bacteriologists in other cities, not as important as Lowell, receive anywhere from $1500 to $2500 a year.

Superintendent of Police

It has been said by men from out of town, and by a no less personage than Col. Theodore Roosevelt that Lowell has one of the best police chiefs in the country, and prominent business men, mill agents and others have written letters to the mayor asking that the pay of the superintendent of police be advanced in recognition of his splendid service. Supt. Redmond Welch, himself, has asked that his pay be increased and the council would probably strain a point in his case but for the fact that in order to increase his pay it would be necessary to establish a new ordinance and an ordinance made this year would not become active until next year. The newspapers throughout the country were loud in their praise and admiration of the way that the I. W. W. strike was handled by Lowell and the local mill agents thanked the "big chief" personally for the conduct of his department during the strike. The ordinance necessary to increase the pay of the superintendent may be created this year.

AIRED FAMILY TROUBLES

Billerica Man is Charged With Neglecting Family

There was quite a recital of family troubles in the police court this morning in the case of William J. Biggerstaff, who on a complaint by his wife, Mrs. Mary H. Biggerstaff was arraigned on a charge of neglect of minor children. W. A. Hogan appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Clemens of Waltham represented the defendant husband.

Mrs. Biggerstaff was the first to take the witness stand and she offered the testimony that she is a resident of Billerica and that her husband had left her early last December and since that time, has not contributed to her support nor to that of her children. She stated that when he left he had about $700 in a bank which was so tied up as to be unavailable to her. She also said in reply to questions that on April 3, 1911, her husband had been sent to an asylum at Worcester and remained there for about six months, at the end of which time she had him released. Mr. Biggerstaff, she said, had given orders to the merchants of the town not to sell his wife anything on credit and so it was that she was unable to procure sufficient food, not having the necessary funds. She said that the income from the farm at present amounts to from $2 to $3 per week and that this is from the sale of eggs, for her husband forbade her to sell any of the live stock on the farm. She said that at present there is not sufficient food in the house for herself and children.

The defendant on the state testified that he had supported his wife, and in substance his testimony was a denial of the material allegation of his wife.

Judge Enright took the case under advisement for one week at the conclusion of the argument and suggested that the contesting parties get together within that time and attempt to come to some agreement regarding a settlement outside the court.

Drunk Offenders

There were just six occupants of the cage in the court room this morning, and all of these were charged with drunkenness. One of this number, Charles Shea, and George McGowan paid fines of $6 each for second offenses; Mike Cassidy, Harry Bent, Thomas Ellis and James McKiernan will reside for a time at the state farm.

CAUSE OF A LIVELY FIRE THIS MORNING

Blaze in Partition Gained Great Headway

HOUSE IN RAILROAD STREET BADLY DAMAGED

Alarm From Box 43 Called Fire Department Out Early This Morning—Interior of Building Badly Damaged

About 7:45 this morning an alarm from box 43 called the fire department to Railroad street, where a smart blaze was burning in a two-tenement house owned by a Mr. Nunnis. The fire had started from a defective chimney and gained great headway in a short space of time in a partition.

The upper room of the building is occupied while the lower one is vacant. A fire had been built in a stove in the lower part of the house but the stove pipe had been directed into the partition but had not been connected with the chimney of the house. It was in the partition that the fire started. When the teams arrived upon the scene the flames were consuming the walls and floor and were spreading rapidly. The firemen, however, got quickly to work and soon the blaze was gotten under control.

The damage to the interior of the building was considerable but the fire did not succeed in breaking through the walls or roof. The floor and partition where the blaze first appeared were badly burnt.

IDLE HOUR CAMPERS' COTILLION AT ASSOCIATE HALL A GREAT SUCCESS

Woodrow Wilson might not have approved of some of the dances that were indulged in at the Idle Hour Campers' cotillion last night in Associate hall, but since the president-elect doesn't seem to like any kind of dancing, we won't quote him as an authority on the subject, and will proceed about our own business. For those whose curiosity we have aroused, we will say that several varieties of the Boston were observed with a few others of a novel character, but there was nothing in the least objectionable in any of the dances. In fact the strictest attention was observed throughout and the young people seemed to be having a mighty good time.

People who know, say that last night's affair was the "best yet," that it not only eclipsed the other social festivities of the present year, but that it was even better than the former cotillions held by the same club. And that's "going some," as our friend "Shakespeare" would say.

The color scheme for the festive decorations was bright red and white, the colors of the Idle Hour Campers. The windows were hung with rich lace curtains and the walls were covered with draperies of red and white. Colored streamers were swung down from the ceiling to the sides of the hall, and the chandeliers were trimmed with greenery, while the glow of the electric light was softened by red shades. The sides of the balconies were festooned with white bunting that was gracefully caught up here and there with bunches of red flowers, while red anchors were placed at short intervals. At the end of the building was a figure of tiny red and white anchors, that fluttered prettily whenever a breeze blew in from a nearby window.

The patronesses were made comfortable in a cozy corner at the left hand side of the hall. The stage was trimmed with red and white, with a large red anchor in the background. Across the front was a dainty trellis-work, entwined with red flowers and greenery, and behind this, a bank of tall palms hid the orchestra from view.

Minor's orchestra furnished the music for the occasion, and gave a pleasing concert, including a symphonic number before the dancing began. There were 16 dancers and four extras in the order, with an intermission during which light refreshments were served, after the cotillion.

The cotillion began at 8 o'clock and was led by Hon. James E. O'Donnell and Mrs. O'Donnell, followed by a hundred other couples. The march was watched with much interest by the many spectators in the balcony, who were generous with their applause, especially the lines of 48 were formed and moved down the center of the hall. The favors were jaunty white sailor caps for the men, and small white anchors, tied with red ribbon, for the girls. These were no doubt symbolical of the cotillion, and the campers have at their summer place in Willow Dale.

Following the march were John P. Golden and Miss Louise McKee; John J. Flaherty and Miss Bridget K. Smith; William F. Wood and Miss Beatrice Wood; Edward F. Quinn and Miss Anna McCall; Charles T. McKenzie and Miss Katherine Sheehan; William Cahill and Miss Julia Allen; Geo. Allard and Miss Frances Furlong; Walter P. Hobbs and Miss Alice Addie; Joseph McCarver and Miss Anna Golden; John V. PURCHASE OF ARCHBOLD LETTERS

Charles P. Mooney Tells of Securing Standard Oil Company Notes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Charles P. Mooney, editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal and formerly managing editor of the New York American, told the senate committee investigating campaign contributions about securing copies of some of the Standard Oil letters published by William R. Hearst.

UPSET STOMACH AND INDIGESTION.

Hearstburn, Gas, Sourness or Dyspepsia Ended in Five Minutes With "Pape's Diapiesin"

Time it. In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eruptions of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapiesin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain remedy in the whole world and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know how it is needless to have a bad stomach.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable. Life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it, without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Disapiesin belongs in your home anyway. It should be kept handy, should one of the family eat something which doesn't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night it is there to give the quickest, surest relief known.

one's duty to make them public. They showed that senators and representatives sworn to protect the public interests were committing treason against the people," Mr. Mooney told the committee.

He testified that when he became managing editor of the New York American in 1904 John Eddy, previous city editor, turned over to him a number of photographic copies of Standard Oil correspondence with public men. As to how those were obtained, Mr. Mooney could give no information. Later a man he could not name offered him more letters and wanted Mr. Mooney to buy them, assuring him he had come by them honestly. Mr. Mooney made some photographic copies.

"I was later assured by counsel," said Mr. Mooney, "that it would have been entirely proper for me to buy original letters containing matter of such a criminal character. I did not want them, however, and I did not care to have them remain in my possession or in the paper's possession."

Mr. Mooney denied the statement in an affidavit by Charles Stump presented to the committee last week that Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Mooney inspected letter books taken from the Standard Oil offices. He said he never saw any such books and that he never negotiated with Mr. Chamberlain for any letters. He added further that he never talked with Mr. Hearst about the correspondence and never bought any of the originals.

Mr. Mooney branded the statement that $34,000 was paid for copies of the Standard Oil letters as an absurdity when asked for his judgment as to the statement that $4500 was paid. Mr. Mooney replied that from a news point of view the price would not have been excessive.

The committee took an indefinite recess.

Chancellor Supports Women's Suffrage
LONDON, Jan. 23.—"I hope we shall win on Monday," David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, today told a deputation of suffragettes representing the working women of the British Isles, whom he and Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, received at the treasury department.

"I certainly shall do my very best to see that the amendment to the franchise reform bill eliminating the word 'male' is passed by the house of commons. Since I have been in the cabinet I have become a more convinced supporter of women's suffrage than ever."

DON'T GROW BALD, YOUNG MAN!

Take Care of Your Hair While You Have Hair to Take Care of.

It's a safe bet that one out of ten young men who use Parisian Sage as an occasional hair dressing will never grow bald.

There's a reason, of course, and it's a very good and sufficient one. Dandruff germs cause falling hair and falling hair means thinner hair and in due time baldness.

Parisian Sage prevents baldness, by destroying the cause of baldness—the little persistent voracious dandruff germ.

If you have dandruff or itching scalp it means that dandruff germs are sapping the vitality from the roots of your hair. Get rid of all hair troubles by using Parisian Sage. It does not contain poisonous sugar of lead or any harmful ingredients. It is a scientific preparation that abolishes dandruff, stops falling hair and scalp itch, and makes hair grow lustrous and luxuriant.

Many young women as well as men are growing bald and from the same cause—the dandruff germ.

Use delightful, refreshing Parisian Sage. It nourishes the hair roots, if the roots are not dead, and brings to every scalp a head of glorious hair, radiant and fastidious. Large bottle for 50 cents at drug stores and toilet counters. See that you get Parisian Sage. Carter & McGurk guarantee it.

TRY TO SETTLE STRIKE

Arbitration Board Acts on B. & M. Trouble

BANGOR, Me., Jan. 23.—The resources of the state board of arbitration and conciliation were put to the test today in an effort to settle the strike of the engineers and firemen on the Bangor & Aroostook railroad. The board met at the direction of Governor Haines. The members realized the difficulty of their task as President Todd of the road still holds to his position, that the company could not if it would increase the wages of the men while the earnings of the road continue as they are.

The union officials were hopeful, however, that a compromise of mutual advantage could be reported. The passenger service was continued today and an attempt was made to move some freight.

The arbitrators, who are Fred Bogie of East Machias, Alden M. Flag of Auburn and S. R. Haines of Pittsfield, met at the Penobscot exchange late in the forenoon and made their plans for the investigation. They will be occupied with the matter for probably several days.

Among the many conflicting rumors that could not be confirmed today was a report that the engine crews of the Maine Central railroad would refuse to haul Bangor & Aroostook freight that is being moved to the Maine Central line by trucks.

TWO BURNED TO DEATH

And Others Badly Injured at Fire

CANFIELD, O., Jan. 23.—Two people were burned to death, two were fatally injured and one suffered severe injuries in a farm house fire two miles from here early today. The dead are Curtis Shafer, 35, and his daughter Effie, 14. Mrs. Shafer, 33, and another daughter, Evelyn, 12, are believed fatally injured. A son, William, 10, was painfully hurt.

Discussion of Cotton Tariff
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Proposed reduction of the cotton tariff was again under fire today at the hearing of the house committee on ways and means. There were a number of witnesses left over from yesterday's program and a short list of supplemental witnesses.

Southern and northern manufacturers do not agree on the extent to which the committee should go in cutting the cotton tariff. It has been indicated that the committee might drop the minimum ad valorem rate on cotton cloths ten per cent. five per cent. below the present Underwood schedule. While the southern men are disposed to concede compromise reductions, the northern men are fighting for retention of the tariff at approximately the present figures.

Aviator Fell 240 Feet
RHENIS, France, Jan. 23.—The well known French flying man, Charles Gaudard was thrown to the ground from a height of 240 feet by the engine of his biplane while making a flight today around the spire of the cathedral here. He was living when picked up although in a critical condition. He obtained his pilot's certificate in November, 1910.

$100,000 Loss by Fire
VINELAND, N. J., Jan. 23.—The plant of the Vineyard Grape Juice Co. here was destroyed by fire late last night. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Miner's solo quartet, at Richwoods.

Steamer Mae in Distress
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The revenue cutters Androscoogin and Seminole steaming full speed to the distressed steamer Mae, which last night was sending out S. S. calls 120 miles out from Charleston, S. C., had not reported early today to headquarters. The Androscoogin caught the Mae's distress signals when she was cruising about 15 miles off Beale Island, N. C., about 50 miles away. The Seminole went out from Charleston.

President Lowell Moves
CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 23.—President Lowell of Harvard "moved house" today. From the old two story and a half house which has been the home of the head of the university for more than half a century, he transferred his household effects to the more palatial house erected by the university on Quincy street at a cost of $10,000.

BOSTON—NEW YORK 22 PRESIDENT ST., LOWELL, MASS.

THE MEN'S CLUB OF ST. ANNE'S CHURCH MET

Held Banquet at American House Last Night

REV. APPLETON GRANITIS
Rector of St. Anne's

The men of St. Anne's church held their first annual banquet at the New American House last evening. Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann, rector of Trinity church, Boston, was the guest of the evening. There were 121 members of the parish present and the occasion was a most enjoyable one. The banquet was served from 6:30 to 8 o'clock. Following the banquet, the Men's Glee Club of the church, under the direction of Charles Brown, sang "Old Black Joe."

shipped at this picturesque and distinguished church, and have gone out into the world with the message of right living. In 1832 there were 15,000 persons in Lowell, most of them Protestants. Today it is doubtful, he said, if one-fourth of the population is Protestant. Today Lowell has over forty nationalities. Conditions in all walks of life have changed. The older families are scattered into many sections. The city is very largely made up of persons who are unfamiliar with the older Lowell, who have new hopes and desires. "What this church needs to do," he said, "is to bring itself into touch with the people. The church must not only be the centre of religious life but it must be the centre of the social life as well, and this is increasingly needed. It should have its doors open all the time, not merely on Sundays and Wednesdays. I hope the time is not far distant when St. Anne's will have a splendidly equipped parish house where the social activities can be carried out. And we want a hall large enough to take care of the largest crowd. This would mean so much for the life of the church in this community. When the time comes I want all of you men to do your part to carry out this undertaking. It is a source of great satisfaction to see such a large body of men in my congregation. We can rely upon the women to do much, but the men must take the lead if great projects are brought to consummation."

Trinity Church Rector

Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann, rector of Trinity church, Boston, was next called and said, in part: "I want to congratulate the rector of St. Anne's church. I understand that it has been many years since the men of this parish have turned out for such a banquet."

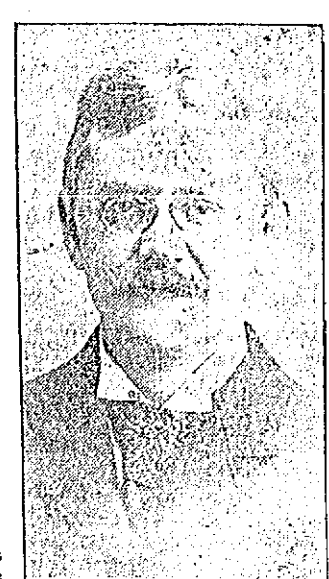

"I wish to congratulate you on your new rector. I knew your former rector, Dr. Chamber, and loved him. I knew his chivalrous nature, his stainless integrity, his great devotion and sacrifice, and I knew him not only as a trusted rector but as a man who was one of the most respected."

Referring to the subject of his toast he said: "You have a very interesting problem in St. Anne's parish. You belong to a church which is coeval with the town of Lowell. In most of Massachusetts towns and cities the Protestant Episcopal church was a late comer, and we weren't greatly loved when we did come. We had to live down the unhappy reputation of being the Tory church. Even to this day a portion of Brattle street, Boston, is called Tory road."

"But in Lowell you have nothing of this to refer to, and if there is a church in this city which should hold the civic spirit and which has a responsibility and an inheritance, it is St. Anne's."

"I have listened to discussion of the great problem of immigration, about the coming here of the southern Europeans, but I wish to say one word about the Greeks of your city. They came here to earn a better living. Many of them had positions yet when they heard the call of their old country, they drop all of their hopes here and go back to battle with the foe of centuries. They are men who dropped it all to go back by hundreds and to fight. And that's the sort of stuff this country can never have too much of. This is the kind of stuff we've got to have, too. Changes cannot be effected simply by law, although there must be law and order. We must have something of patience, something of the compassion of the big brother for the little brother, in fact a common patriotism and a common love for country. This is the love which will make a man disdain to take any advantage of a foreigner."

Men's Club President

F. Nathaniel Perkins, president of the Men's Club of Trinity church, said that the great duty of the men of the club is to assist the rector. He said that the clubs connected with the churches develop character and give men a better understanding.

Dual Conscience Abandoned

Rev. Samuel H. John, associate pastor of St. Anne's, responded to the toast, "The Church and Social Ethics." He said in part: "The obligation resting on this church and on the men in it is to interest the man on the outside. The church in its community is reckoned in power on its ability to make a wholesome impression on the community as a whole. We used to talk of religion and secular activities in the church. But we don't do it any more. And we don't believe in the dual conscience, the conscience for Sunday and an entirely different one for the other days of the week. The church must speak in a terminology of the people. We want to bring ethics right down to life. We must do in business what Perkins of New York is doing, bringing the individual standards of right living into the standards of business life."

Rev. E. E. Atkinson

Rev. E. E. Atkinson spoke to the toast, "The Human Touch," and the last toast of the evening was "Our Country," responded to by John Jacob Rogers.

The Men's Glee Club sang "Silver Threads" the solo being carried by Alex. Williams, with other obligato by John Rogers.

The committee in charge of the banquet was as follows: Alex E. Williams, chairman; Edgar L. Fay, Charles N. Midwood, Charles B. Redway, Duncan Kelly, Harry Clifton, Cyrus W. Russell, Charles W. Eaton, Charles E. Grover.

KEEP MILK COVERED

And it will be Free From "Taints"

MILK is so sensitive to taints and odors that even in this day of disinfectants and sanitation it takes watchful care to keep it from getting a taste of one disagreeable kind or another. Some of the taints come from the feed that the cow has had. Onions, turnips and cabbage, for instance, leave a trail as definite as that of the proverbial red herring, so often used by the tricky to obscure the issue. Sometimes milk is contaminated during the milking process by the stable odors.

Most of the tastes and taints that get into it, however, are attributed to exposure to some strong odor after the milking process is over. "Keeping the milk covered" is not now, thanks to the bottle and the refrigerator, the task that it used to be with the open crock and the spring house. But given a careless maid it is still hard enough. And milk will absorb any odor that is about in the refrigerator. Even if the odor is in itself pleasant the taste of it translated into milk will not be pleasant. "What on earth is it?" one woman asked her cook after touching her lips to a glass of milk at luncheon. "It's strawberries." "You can't make me believe it. It's asafetida." But there were strawberries open in the icebox, and there wasn't any asafetida.

If the icebox is not kept sweet and clean and well ventilated its own odor will get into milk that is allowed to stand with the bottle cover off. And to get cook and kitchen maid so trained that they will not leave that cover off is a task of no mean proportions.

Cup Cake.

Rob together one cupful of butter and two cupfuls of sugar. Add four eggs, beating in one at a time. Beat for five minutes. Sift together three cupfuls of flour and a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Add to the mixture with 20 drops of extract of bitter almonds. Mix into a smooth, medium batter. Bake well in greased cups or muffin rings in a rather hot oven for about 20 minutes.

SIZING UP A FRIEND

Dope on How to Judge Acquaintances

When trying to sum up a new acquaintance do not look at the face alone, but particularly notice the head and ears, as these are far more trustworthy guides than the features can ever be. Illness or accident may spoil a face which was intended to be beautiful and so lead you into forming a harsh, incorrect judgment. But nothing can alter the shape of the head, by which the character is revealed. A low, back sloping forehead is often a sign of stupidity or shallowness. A person with a forehead like this has seldom very much mental power. It may seem bright and sharp at first, but when you come to know him you will find that he is also shallow. A high, wide forehead is generally a sign of very good brains. But a high forehead which is pressed in at the temples as if it had been squeezed between the hands is not a good sign. People with foreheads like this are sometimes clever, but generally untrustworthy and often cruel.

A very large, bulging forehead is not, as some folks think, a sign of tremendous intellect. It is often shown that the owner, when a child was threatened with water on the brain, it is frequently to be seen in rather stow people, who sometimes have cunning enough to hide their dullness under a cloak of silence and so pose as being very "deep."

A very heavy back to the head shows strong passions and sometimes a tendency to conservatism. Men with heads like this are domineering and commanding, but they do not have any fine feelings.

A head which goes straight up from the back of the neck without any bulge at all often shows a cold, selfish, critical disposition. Women with heads like this are apt to be "caty," and men are limited, conventional and self seeking.

A head with a wide or lumpy top shows kindness and benevolence. Men with this shaped head may not be specially brilliant, but they are kind and devoted husbands and fathers.

Large, coarse ears, with thick lobes to them, show a lack of refinement and sympathy. Ears which have very large bald spaces at the back of the head—quite a considerable gap between the ear and the hair—often denote cruelty. They are frequently to be seen on criminals and prizefighters.

Small ears, set flat on to the head and placed fairly high up, are a good sign. They show refinement and a natural delicacy and sympathy.

Some people say that a deeply cleft chin shows a contented mind, and others hold that it indicates a very affectionate disposition. A square, heavy jaw shows strength of will or obstinacy. A receding chin shows lack of will and self indulgent disposition. A very sharply pointed chin is more often than not a sign of weakness and fretfulness.

Eyes which are set very close together are generally supposed to denote slowness. When they appear with a high, narrow forehead they are a most dangerous sign.

Eyes which are set very wide apart give an innocent, confiding look to the face, and when they appear beneath a well shaped forehead they generally indicate sweetness of disposition. But below a bad shaped forehead they may show silliness and a certain lack of "grip," which will make the owner incapable of handling life's difficulties in a sensible, practical way.

The size of the head does not matter much, provided that it is well shaped. If the shape is really good, you will not take any particular notice of its size, you will merely feel sure that it is all right.

POLICE SERGT. CLAIMS JEALOUSY

Trouble in Boston May Result in Wholesale Transfer of Serpts. and Patrolmen

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—A wholesale transfer of the night sergeants and the patrolmen of the East Dedham street station may be made by Police Commissioner Stephen O'Meara as the result of long standing jealousy in that division, which has been brought to a head by the complaint to headquarters of Sergeant Jeremiah J. Jordan that he is not getting a square deal on the division.

Hearing Expected
A hearing is expected to be called this week by the commissioner, at which the difficulties among the officers will be thoroughly thrashed out, and as a result it is expected those who are responsible for it will be sent to other districts.

Division 5, known as one of the toughest districts in the police department, was thoroughly stirred by the developments of yesterday, which terminated with the visit of Sergeant Rioridan to the division.

Many of those who claim to know the inside of the affair declare it is nothing but petty jealousy. This sort of thing has been going on for many months, according to some of the men, and in the investigation which is expected it is said that a vice squad combination, in which the complainant was not included, will be shown.

Rioridan, who is one of the night sergeants, in laying his case before Superintendent William H. Pierce at headquarters yesterday, maintained that he has not been receiving a square deal in the running down of questionable resorts in the division.

Scenes Sergeants

He declares that Sergeants Charles B. McCloskey and John E. Hughes have been skimming the cream of the work, leaving him as much on the outside of the "honor" parts as they would a citizen.

Rioridan is a new sergeant, having been promoted last summer and sent to division five from the Lagrange street station and the frequency with which the names of the other two night sergeants have appeared upon warrants for raids upon questionable resorts in the district is the chief basis for his complaint.

Sergeant Rioridan maintains that while he has been attached to the division he has been forced to work absolutely single-handed in running down evidence against the obnoxious places, while he alleges the other two sergeants have had the assistance of the night and day patrolmen and several special officers who have been about the district securing evidence which he claims in every case has been turned over to them.

Immediate Remedy
As the immediate remedy orders have been sent to Captain John Driscoll that some move on the names of all the night sergeants will be placed on applications for warrants.

The men on the district have taken sides with the officers at odds, and although Sergeant Rioridan has a goodly following among the patrolmen, it is said that his supporters are patrolmen whose beats have either already been cleaned up or men on beats where there is no cleaning up to be done.

Captain Driscoll denies all knowledge of the alleged friction and will not take part in the affair.

At headquarters there is nothing to indicate that the superior officers of the district have been mixed up in the affair in any way whatever. Yesterday, after telling Superintendent Pierce of his troubles on the division, Sergeant Rioridan was assured that the matter would be taken up with the police commissioner at once.

TRY WOMAN AS BURGLAR GARFIELD POST, G. A. R.

Alleged That She Helped Steal Auto Tires

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—Mary Welsh, alias Minnie L. Charter, was placed on trial yesterday in the superior criminal court in East Cambridge charged with breaking and entering and larceny of two automobile tires from the garage of A. A. Prouty at Ayer on the night of Nov. 5, 1912. She is the first woman to be tried for burglary in the East Cambridge courts.

The woman, who was arrested with John Gaskill, alias John Richards, says she was to have married the man, whom she knew as Dr. James Stillman. The woman's story is that she met Gaskill three years ago under the name of Dr. James Stillman and he lived with her in a lodging house on five or six weeks after the tire episode.

"Dr. Stillman" had treated her grandfather during an illness. They came to live in a lodging house on Hanson street, in the South End district of Boston, and were to have been married on Christmas Day.

On the night of the burglary they had been to the home of her mother and on the way back in Gaskill's machine they stopped at the garage for gasoline. They had gone but a short distance when one of the tires burst. Gaskill went back to the garage and on his return informed her he had purchased two tires, but that they were heavy he had left them on the road. They returned, she said, and picked them up.

The case brings to mind the sensational arrest of Gaskill and the woman after a fight on Washington street the latter part of last November. Gaskill at that time pulling a revolver. They had been followed by store detectives and accused of robbery. Subsequent developments showed that Gaskill, who had served a term in the Charles street jail and escaped from that institution in 1909 and for which four officers were dismissed, had gained the confidence of the woman under an assumed name and that he was plundering houses and garages while she believed he was a physician.

Held Important Meeting-- Other Fraternities

Last night the regular meeting of James A. Garfield post was held in the hall of the organization in Merrimack street and was well attended. The gathering was presided over by Commander Thomas O. Regan. The report of Adjutant F. E. Butler was accepted as read, as was also that of Quartermaster E. R. Pike, according to which the finances are in excellent condition. The reports of the sick committee and other committees were also heard and accepted.

At this meeting among the principal business was the election of an executive committee for the ensuing year, and the following were chosen: Senior vice commander, C. H. Plandres; Junior vice commander, A. W. Stockwell; E. H. Pike, C. H. Slickney and A. J. Boles. During the evening there were several addresses on the good of the organization by the members.

COR. CENTRAL & MIDDLE STS.

of Malta met in regular session last night in the Odd Fellows building and initiated a number of candidates into the mysteries of the order. At the next gathering the second degree will be worked.

Considerable routine business was transacted at last night's meeting and reports show the organization to be in flourishing condition in every way.

Ladd and Whitney Circle

Ladd and Whitney circle, No. 8, Ladies of the G. A. R., met last night in Post 185 hall. President Mary L. Hamblett was in the chair. There was a large attendance and the usual routine business was transacted. On Feb. 12 the department president, Mrs. Emma F. Thurlow of Newburyport, will pay the post circle a visit. Sister Bryant will have charge of the supper, which will be served at 6 p. m. The meeting will be called at 7:15 p. m. and will close at 9 p. m.

Lowell Lodge, A. O. U. W.

Lowell lodge, 22, Ancient Order of United Workmen, will hold its regular meeting in Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street, tonight at 8 o'clock. Deputy Grand Master Workman John H. Hart and suite from Pacific lodge, Lawrence, will be in attendance and will install the newly elected officers for the present year. At the close of the installation exercises a collation will be served in the banquet hall to the members present. Every member should attend this meeting as matters of vital importance will be discussed relative to the coming grand lodge session which will be held in the near future.

B. F. Dotter Women's Relief Corps

The regular meeting of B. F. Dotter Women's Relief Corps, No. 75, was held at Memorial hall. The meeting was called at 8 o'clock with the president, Miss Emma J. Ober, in the chair. The attendance was large and a great deal of business was accomplished. Committees were appointed for the ensuing year. It was voted to give a turkey supper on their anniversary.

THE I. W. W. DOCTRINE

Defined by Giovannitti in New York

At a meeting of Intercollegiate Socialists in New York, the other night, Joseph Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti were among the speakers. As a sheriff and 15 deputies were on the stage Mr. Ettor was very mild in his remarks but it seemed that Giovannitti courted arrest in the radical character of his speech which, however, only expressed the policy and teachings of the I. W. W.

Dealing with the subject of "sabotage," Giovannitti said: "When you're out on strike put the boss' property on the bum so that the man who takes your place can't use it."

"I have written a speech," said Giovannitti, "but it is so long I will not be able to deliver it. However, let the sheriff think there is something in it that he would disapprove of, I hereby make him a present of it."

The speech was formally handed to the sheriff.

Giovannitti argued that when a striker left his machine behind him in perfect order, when he went out on strike, he left behind him exactly half of his chance of winning the strike. Therefore, he was perfectly justified in loosening a screw or bolt, or performing "sabotage," which would incapacitate that machine as soon as the strikebreaker attempted to use it.

"This is merely answering a kick in the shins by a punch in the jaw," he declared. "And I advocate that policy, sheriff or no sheriff!"

That speech of Giovannitti incited one of the most dangerous doctrines ever preached in this country. It is revolutionary and little short of anarchy.

Ettor, Giovannitti and other I. W. W. leaders have been in New York for some time conducting the Garment Workers' strike.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Tendered Mrs. Mamie Sullivan by Her Many Friends at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Moir, Tuesday

A delightful miscellaneous shower was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. John S. Moir, 342 Mammoth road, for Mrs. Mamie Sullivan, at which about 50 of the lady friends of Mrs. Sullivan assembled. Most of the guests are employed at the Bon Marche, where Mrs. Sullivan has been a valued employee for 15 years, and they fairly showered the coming bride with a variety of gifts. A luncheon was served at the close of the evening's entertainment. The guests of the evening were entertained by piano solos by Mrs. Smith, songs by Miss C. Peltier, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Mamie Doherty, Miss Delisle and Miss Agnes O'Neill, and a recitation by Miss Mollie McLaughlin. Luncheon was served along towards midnight by Mrs. Catherine Everett.

TWO OVERCOATS STOLEN

Thieves Busy at Winthrop High School

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—A long series of small thefts from the cloak rooms of the Winthrop high school, culminating in the disappearance of two boys' overcoats, have aroused the parents of the school and police authorities.

Yesterday a new overcoat, worth $22, worn for the first time that day by Paul Bertelson of 111 Court road, disappeared from the cloak room of the school. This loss was discovered at the noon recess. A few hours later William Whall, Jr., of 91 Atlantic avenue, discovered that his coat, bought at Christmas and valued at $28, had disappeared.

It is claimed by parents that during the last few years no article left in the cloak room has been safe. One girl reported losing $3 during the last two years, in small sums. Hats, gloves, caps and handkerchiefs have been reported lost. A silver chatelaine, left in a coat pocket in the assembly room, disappeared Jan. 6.

Soma weeks ago Headmaster E. D. Osborne called all the boys and girls together and asked them to familiarize themselves with each others' overcoats and belongings, so that if any one of them was stolen and worn by some one other than the owner, they might be recognized.

Mr. Osborne declared last night that he had reported the cases to the police, but had taken no unusual precaution to prevent any repetition of the thefts.

THE MILITANT SUFFRAGET

The cause of woman suffrage has made great progress in the United States during the past few months. You had not heard about it. That is quite likely, because the paper has been given to women only in certain western and middle west states. But in England, where there has been turned and now the cause of the woman, the cause has made virtually no progress at all.

Some hundreds of thousands of women are now entitled to vote in the United States, and for the first time in the history of the country, women took an important part in the recent presidential campaign. They were serious minded women, who added dignity to the public meetings in which they had participated. In states where they were not permitted to vote they passed in the campaign was due to an invitation from the party leaders, a virtual recognition of the fact that eventually, as matters shall progress politically, they will in fact as well as deed become a part of the body politic.

It has been the fashion of recent years for the English suffragets to come over here to tell our women about their rights, and to urge them to demand the ballot from the men. It would be better were these visitors to devote their time to a study of the more pacific methods adopted by their sisters in this country, and consider how much better are the results already obtained. At the present time every member of the British cabinet is guarded by detectives wherever he goes, so great is the fear of personal violence at the hands of the women. When the premier left the house of commons one day this week two automobiles filled with plain clothes men followed him, because of an expected attempt to take his life. When the vote on Sir Edward Grey's amendment to the franchise registration is taken tomorrow, extraordinary police precautions will be required to preserve public order.

What is being gained by it all? Nothing at all, and much is being lost. The militant suffraget is losing the respect that all women should be able to claim from men. She is losing the confidence of other women who believe in her cause but not in her methods. There is a lesson in it all that should not be lost upon the women of our own country.

GIVE US FREE MEAT

There is probably no one item of the democratic program for tariff reform that will receive more general endorsement, the country over, than the placing of meat upon the free list. And why not? We have been a nation of beef eaters and of hard workers since the days of the revolution, and the two facts bear a close relation. The nation that breeds strong men must feed them on muscle building foods, and the people forced to look upon meat as a luxury are no longer commercial or industrial leaders.

The increased cost of meats of all kinds in the United States has already curtailed the normal food supply of more than half of the population, and it was in recognition of this fact that the present democratic congress, at its last session, repealed the tariff on meats. But the president, in his ill-advised wisdom, vetoed the measure.

It is, then, a duty imposed upon the democratic party to carry out its pledges and place the necessities of life upon the free list. However much there may be a disagreement as to downward revision as affecting manufactured goods, the sentiment in all three parties will endorse this action. There will be no presidential veto after the fourth of March, and no argument that "popular legislation will aid the democrats in their presidential campaign." Without such aid Woodrow Wilson won his election; but it must not be forgotten that it was partly because of the defeated program of democratic tariff reform that the country fell from the long support of the republican party.

Placing meats and cereals, sugar and lumber, and a few other necessities upon the free list will not reduce the cost of living to more than a normal degree, but at least it will check the upward trend, because it will lessen the grip now held by the powers, the sugar trust, and the lumber king of the country. And the far more important is the fact that the average man will require to convince him that such combinations have indeed existed.

PROTEST AGAINST CLEAN MONEY

A few years ago there was a moral-wave protest against accepting tainted money, and in several instances contributions were returned when offered by gentlemen who had made their millions more rapidly than seemed legitimate through the regular channels of business. But at the present time the treasury department at Washington is considering—not too seriously, perhaps—a protest against clean money.

Recently money washing machines were introduced in the bureau of engraving and in the sub-treasuries of the country, and were found to work most satisfactorily. By cleaning acted bills it is possible to prolong their life, so that the government is not now required to manufacture as much new money as it did formerly. A saving of hundreds of thousands yearly will result.

But the plate printers are opposed for this reason, fearing that the big force of help will be reduced. They have issued a circular of protest, in which, however, they evade the real point at issue and argue that a washed bill looks like a counterfeit and will be dangerous for the public to handle. They also claim that "there is no popular demand for washed money, and that money estimates have been juggled in the interest of scoundrel currency."

If there has been no popular demand for washed money it is because the average man has trouble enough in overtaking a considerable number of bills of any sort, and is willing to accept them whether they are new or old, clean or otherwise; and incidentally, he is satisfied to leave such questions entirely to the government experts. Generally speaking, it is very desirable to have paper currency cleaned occasionally of not only dirt, but such germs as may have been left upon it. Whether this is done by a washing machine or soap and a scrub brush matters very little provided the money does not depreciate in value.

COMMITTED TO ARBITRATION

Senator Root makes a rather strong case against the United States on the Panama canal question, though it is perhaps to be regretted that the discussion should not have been held in "committee of the whole." The frankness with which international questions are sometimes discussed in the house and senate is not always understood in Europe, and the prestige of the United States suffers in consequence. Mr. Root is chiefly right in his contention that the United States, having preached arbitration for years, and having besought other nations in season and out of season to enter into arbitration agreements, cannot now refuse to arbitrate this question. That is just the situation. Quite apart from the merits of the canal question, is the larger issue involving the principle of arbitration. To the latter we are, as a nation, completely committed.

No Lowell "vet" is better entitled to the position of president of the New England Veteran Firemen's league than is James H. Walker. And let us see, is it not customary to have at least one muster in the home city of the president?

The plan to send the naval militia through the Panama canal with the fleet that makes the first trip will be hailed with joy by the web-foot soldiers, and there will be a rush down the Cape and elsewhere to join the ranks in anticipation.

St. Columba's parish may not be old enough to have an alumni, but its annual reunions are well enough attended by enthusiastic members to suggest an old and long established church.

Seen and Heard

The reporter was a much heralded athlete and stood six foot two in his stocking feet. The clock was about fourteen from the floor and to the tall athletic reporter, the editor said: "You reach up and wig that clock?" "If I could I would be traveling with a circus," said the elongated one.

Robert Henri, the noted artist, said at a luncheon in New York: "It isn't wise for a painter to be too frank in his criticism. I know a very outspoken painter whose little daughter called at a friend's house and said: 'Show me your parlor, and won't you, please?'"

"So, with great pride, the hostess led the little girl into the drawing room and rubbed all the blinds so that the light might stream in abundantly upon the gorgeous colors of an expensive Kimmishish."

"The little girl stared down at the rug in silence. Then, as she turned away, she said in a rather disappointed voice: 'It doesn't make me sick!'"

A young man and his wife, accompanied by their two children, a boy and a girl, entered a street car and sat down on one of the side seats. The little girl was to be seen, and made a bow, with his strongly marked features and freckled skin, was quite the opposite.

Directly across the aisle sat two ladies, evidently a mother and daughter. The younger of the two looked critically at the children. Then she turned to the elder lady, smiled and made a whispered remark. The young man who had been watching her leaned forward.

"Madam," he said, "You are quite right. The girl certainly looks like her mother and the boy looks like me." That he had guessed accurately what was passing in her mind her look of confusion left no doubt.

Just what constitutes news is a much mooted question, to the general public especially. The average newspaper reader considers that anything that pertains to him personally is the most important piece of news that a paper can print. A negro porter in one of the popular Kansas City clubs directly divided his opinion.

Approaching a reporter in the club rooms a few days ago the porter remarked: "Say, boss, don't you all know I done got a divorce, and I ain't seen a single line about it in the paper yet, an' it been mos' two weeks."

"Can't you all put it in the paper now?" he asked. "Tain't as how I cum to get the divorce that I enters to for people know about, but don't you know, boss, that I meets a lot of cut-throat fellows every day that jes' won't speak to me, 'cause they think I'm married."

When thoughtfulness for the comfort of animals as well as of men is shown by a person, this attractive quality makes a difference. If one will notice it is only the unusually kind-hearted man who reserves a part of his considerate attention for the needs of our dumb friends. Such a type happened to be passing along Merrimack street near the Union bank a week ago Monday, on a morning that was bitterly cold.

He was a little man of stoutish figure and he looked, as he puffed away at his pipe, to be one who has found the world a good place to be in and the right place to do good in. And from the expression which some fifty years had worn into his face, I judged him to be one of those really wise porters who have discovered that a thoughtful net does more good to him who performs it than even to the one for whom it is done.

As this rotund little man was passing along he noticed a blanket lying in the gutter at the feet of a horse. It probably had been blown from the animal's back. If one was sweeping along the street like

"sixty" and, as the horse had long since passed by, it was beating against her shivering sides with blinding strength. Pausing on his way, the gentleman stepped into the street and, picking up the blanket, placed it carefully over the horse's back. Then, puffing away at his pipe, he resumed his way, with possibly a faint thought about the thoughtful net which he had done. As I watched him struggling along about his business, I sized him up as one of those men to whom kindness by its constant practice, had become second nature. Now and then such delightful characters cross our paths and when we are fortunate enough to become acquainted with them their candidness casts an elevating and happy influence over us. To use an old expression, they "are the salt of the earth," and whether rich or poor, learned or unlearned, they are to be numbered among those who make this grasping, self-thinking old world ours a fairly agreeable place to live in. Yes, in the exact true sense of the word, these men may well be called "gentlemen."

THE HOME HILLS

Over the hills a white road calls, Luring the feet away from the street, Calling from dawn till twilight falls, Luring through night and day; Hearts in the vale its call obey, But when the hearts are in order array— The old home hills are best!

Regions there are with summer queen, Regal throughout the year, Crowned with a bloom forever green, And mountain blue and sheer, There come the pilgrims from far and near, Seeking a land gods blessed, But homeward again their gray backs steer— The old home hills are best!

Ever the paths await the feet, Ever for scenes unknown, Ever and faint are their windings fleet, Remembering those who have been, But when they have failed and weary grown, Backward they turn to rest, Where hearts find peace and love, its own. The old home hills are best! Arthur Wallace Peach.

COMUNITY COUNCIL

To be Formed by Lowell and Surrounding Towns' Boards of Trade— Meeting for Purpose Monday Night

The Lowell board of trade is planning the organization of a "Comunity Council," which will be formed with delegates from the surrounding towns, and accordingly invitations have been sent to the following towns, to send delegates to a meeting which will be held Monday night at the board of trade's rooms in Central street, Dracut, Tewksbury, Chelmsford, Billerica, Tyngsboro, Westford and Dunstable.

Supper will be served at 6 o'clock and then the plans will be talked over and an organization perfected. Three delegates are invited from each town and the organization will be launched by these men. The purpose of this organization is to discuss road problems and trolley express and in fact better conditions in every way.

Injection of $500,000,000 Germs

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Col. W. B. Baister of the medical corps, U. S. A., during a discussion last night by the Chicago Medical society on serum treatment and prevention of typhoid fever said that 50,000,000 typhoid germs in a serum injection is an infinitesimal dose. "In the army we would consider 50,000,000 germs a very small dose," he said. "When we vaccinate a man against typhoid we give him an injection of 500,000,000 typhoid germs the very first time."

WERE TENDERED ANNUAL BANQUET

Members of St. Jean Baptiste and St. Joseph Choirs Meet

St. Joseph's college hall in Merrimack street was last night the scene of a very pretty gathering, the occasion being the annual banquet to the members of St. Jean Baptiste and St. Joseph church choirs. The affair was largely attended and those present spent a very enjoyable evening. There was a brief reception, followed by a game of whist in the lower hall and later a repast in the main hall. Dr. George E. Caisse, choirmaster, at St. Jean Baptiste church, was chosen toastmaster.

At 7:30 o'clock the guests arrived and were directed to the lower hall where a cordial welcome was extended them by Rev. Joseph M. Blais, O. M. I., treasurer of the parish. A brief reception was held and at 8 o'clock all those present started a spirited whist contest for which several rich prizes were at stake. The whist proved very enjoyable, and when the caterer announced that the repast was ready in the upper hall, the assembly ascended the stairs and seated themselves around the festive board.

The menu consisted of hot roast turkey and dressings and several side dishes and was one of the best ever given at this annual banquet. The meal was leisurely discussed and after the ice cream had been served, Dr. George Caisse tapped to order and made a few remarks. He spoke of the event and said it was given annually by the Oblate Fathers as a token of appreciation to the members of both church choirs for their splendid work during the year. The doctor inserted a little humor in his remarks and spoke at length on the burning of St. Jean Baptiste church, assuring the Fathers that as soon as the new church is rebuilt the members of his choir will be on hand to resume the musical programs. He then complimented the large attendance and in their behalf thanked the Fathers of the parish who made the event possible.

The next speaker was Rev. Joseph M. Blais, O. M. I., treasurer of the parish, who in a few words complimented the singers for their splendid music during the past year and also presented Fr. Matelli's compliments and best wishes, the latter not being present, as he was in New Bedford on business. His remarks were well received and were followed by a few witty sayings by Rev. Charles Paquette, O. M. I., who, in a very humorous mood, directed several jokes at the musicians, as he called them, especially the members of his choir at St. Joseph's church, the director, Mr. Frank Gourdeau, coming in for his share. Rev. Jerome Dicks, O. M. I., and Mr. Gourdeau also spoke and were very interesting.

At the conclusion of the speeches a varied musical program was rendered by several members of the choir, including Miss Anna D. Bourassa, Mr. Frank Gourdeau, Miss Eva Lusner, Dr. George E. Caisse, Telephone Mate, Wilfred P. Caisse, Jr., Ernest Dupont, George Labranche and others, while Mr. Gourdeau, organist at St. Jean Baptiste church, rendered several fine piano selections.

The affair closed with the singing of "O Canada" by both choirs. Dr. Caisse directing. The whist prizes were then awarded and a rising vote of thanks was extended to the Oblate Fathers. Edmond Berger of 137 Alken street catered.

MATRIMONIAL

Lillian H. Twiss of Lynnfield and Miss Katherine H. Breen, daughter of Denis J. Breen, of 788 Muddy street were united in marriage at nine o'clock yesterday morning at St. John's church, Peabody, by Rev. Father Murphy. The bridegroom was attended by Joseph A. Donovan of Lynnfield and the bridemaid was Miss Nellie Glatton of this city.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Pierce. Mr. Twiss is a prominent resident of Lynnfield where he is in full charge of the month works for the state and in addition, he is tree warden of the town. The bride is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and is well known in Lowell, where she has resided until the past year during which she was employed in Lynnfield. After a two weeks' visit to New York city, Jersey City and Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Twiss will reside in Lynnfield.

Girls' Rainy Day Costume

Small girls who insist upon trotting off to school in rainy weather may be protected and comfortably equipped with the aid of one of the new "rainy day" sets. The outfit consists of an almost square bag of morocco holding a "Red Riding" cape of waterproofed silk and an attached hood which may be drawn over a small sized hat to protect its ribbon trimmings. The bag, which is of morocco precisely matching the navy, brown, ecru or dark red silk cloak, is provided with long straps which fit over the shoulders so that when the cloak is worn its receptacle may be used to protect the school-books from dampness.

250 WAITERS "FIRED"

Hotel Clerks Were Planning to Strike

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Waiters agitating a strike found their plans anticipated at one of the large Broadway hotels where they are in full charge of the kitchen and management. Discouraged by the hotel's management, they decided to go every one of the 250 waiters and tell boys in his employ. When the proprietor, James B. Regan, called all of the men into the main dining room they believed he was to announce the concession of their demands but instead James declared that he had been harassed beyond all endurance by their disinfection and reiterated demands. Captains and all were forced to walk out.

TO STOP BABY KISSING

Candidates Warned by Health Board

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Candidates who are becoming active in the aldermanic campaign were warned last night by Health Commissioner George B. Young against handshaking and kissing of babies on account of the prevalence in the city of scarlet fever, diphtheria and smallpox. Dr. Young attended the meeting of the aldermanic health committee, he declared that the baby kissing feature of the campaign should be strictly forbidden.

120,000 TO BE EVICTED

By the Sale of Property in Paris

PARIS, Jan. 23.—The formidable problem of finding accommodation for 120,000 people who are to be evicted from their dwellings owing to the sale of the antiquated fortifications of Paris to the city authorities by the government is now before the municipal council of the French capital for solution. The space occupied by the wall, 21 miles in length, and the firing zone, 500 yards in width facing it, are to be converted into public parks. This space is now covered by many thousands of ramshackle houses, occupied in most cases by the poorest class of work people and rag people, but in many instances turned into resorts for criminals and tramps. The proprietors pay a small annual sum for the privilege of being allowed to construct these huts on the condition that they are subject to destruction in case of war. There is not sufficient accommodation for the occupants in other parts of the city.

The amount of money expended on these old fortifications erected in 1842 and now to be razed is estimated to have exceeded $200,000. It is impossible to enter the city without passing through one of the 70 gates now used as stations for the collection of the tax imposed on provisions coming into Paris from the country districts.

Outline and Shot Sutting

A delightful fabric is a new shot cutting, mostly produced in such unobtrusive colorings as gray, black, mole, brown, tan and olive green. In texture this new suiting has a colorable resemblance to that used for a man's coat, and it is generally treated in a similar way—that is, say, it is stitched, finely braided and bound.

ANOTHER LOWELL MAN HONORED

Gov. Foss Appoints Peter H. Savage to State Board of Embalming

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—Governor Foss yesterday nominated Peter H. Savage of Lowell to be a member of the state board of embalming. The council confirmed the nomination of Dr. T. B. Smith of Lowell to be associate medical examiner for the 5th Middlesex district.

The House
In the house yesterday the following committee reports were received:

Cities, leave to withdraw on Mayor Fitzgerald's petition that the city of Boston be permitted to subsidize the Boston Opera House. Rep. Caro of Chelsea dissents.

Cities, on petition of Mayor Fitzgerald, a bill to require the lighting of ways of egress in all places of public assembly to which an admission fee is charged.

Public service, leave to withdraw on the petition of the state-branch of the American Federation of Labor for an extension of the law providing for the retirement of employees of the commonwealth.

Judiciary, leave to withdraw on a petition that the attorney general be directed to investigate the matter of illegal monopolies controlling the prices of milk, eggs, butter and other articles.

Ways and means, a bill appropriating $62,000 for the expenses of the industrial accident board. Given its several readings under suspension of the rules.

Rep. Frederick W. Hurlburt of Worcester, who because of illness, has been unable to attend any previous session of the house, was escorted by Rep. Washburn of Worcester to the governor's office, where he took the oath of office.

The Senate

In the senate, these reports of committees were read:

Judiciary—Reference to next general court on Mayor John F. Fitzgerald's bill that charges for water be items upon estates.

Public service—A resolve to pay Charles F. Pidgin, for 34 years of the bureau of statistics of labor, $500 a year in monthly installments. The pensioner is entitled to an annuity of $1000 a year.

Bank Examiner Thorndike reported that he had examined the securities, investments and cash in the treasury of the commonwealth on Jan. 1, 1913, and found that there was a total of $55,141,571.48 invested in securities and held in cash; that cash was $10,153,211.48; the bank balances, $1,122,732.49; the fund securities and trust deposit securities amounted to $51,009,650.65; in bonds, $45,630,240 in notes, $3,911,910.68 in trust deposit securities, $4,417,500 due from national banks and trust companies, $4,122,732.49 in various items, $919,131.

The state auditor's statements showed cash in funds to be $2,515,741.15, cash in revenue, $1,616,159.64. The examiner finds the amounts to agree with the statement by the treasurer.

Senator Stearns of Cambridge moved postponement of the bill introduced by Senator Brennan of Charlestown to amend the act of last year relative to the pay of firemen in Cambridge by the commissioner of public safety, to Friday. Senator Brennan opposed postponement and asked the reason. Senator Collidge said it was to oblige the commissioner of public safety, who desired to look into the matter. Postponement prevailed on a voice vote.

Federal Relations

Rep. Sanborn of Lawrence appeared before the committee on federal relations yesterday in favor of the petition of C. W. Walworth and others for the passage of a resolution requesting congress to propose an amendment of the federal constitution authorizing congress to regulate hours of labor.

Rep. Schlappe of Lawrence was also recorded in favor of the resolution and the matter was put over for a week.

City Solicitor Harry W. James of Chelsea appeared in favor of the petition of Maurice Caro for the adoption of a resolution requesting congress to pass legislation providing for the sale of the land in the city of Chelsea formerly used as a powder magazine, and containing about seven and one-half acres.

Mr. James said that Chelsea is very much handicapped in the fact that out of more than $25,000,000 of taxable property, $2,000,000 is exempt.

Ways and Means
The committee on ways and means gave a hearing on estimates of amounts required for the fiscal year for five of the state charitable institutions.

Superintendent Frost of the Boston State hospital explained why the institution will need approximately $100,000 more this year than it did last year. Last year there was appropriated for the maintenance of the institution $306,000, and this year the institution asks for $406,000. The increase is made necessary by reason of the fact that the hospital has recently established a psychopathic department in connection with its other work. The population of the hospital has increased from 167 in 1912 to 1195 at the present date.

Superintendent Klein of the Danvers State hospital asks for an appropriation of $352,000 for the fiscal year, which is just $100 more than was appropriated last year. The estimates show an increase in salaries and wages amounting to $5000 and a decrease in clothing and material of the same amount.

The trustees of the Foxboro State hospital ask for an appropriation of $193,500 as compared with $101,500, which was appropriated last year. The largest item of increase is salaries.

The Gardner state colony trustees want $10,000 more this year than they received last year. They ask specifically for $140,500. Salaries, wages, labor and food represent the largest items of increase.

The trustees of the Lakeville state sanatorium ask for an appropriation of $87,300, or $1300 more than was allotted last year. As in the previous cases, the largest item of increase is represented by salaries, wages and labor.

Constitutional Amendments
A number of women attorneys appeared before the committee on constitutional amendments to urge the submission of an amendment to make women eligible for appointment as notaries public.

Rep. George T. Daly appeared in favor of his resolve for the abolition of the governor's council and the transfer of its duties to the general court. He said he thought matters of pardons, etc., would be much better handled by the general court than they are by the council.

James A. Sanborn of Boston opposed the bill on the ground that the duties of the council are very different from those of the legislature, and the legislative and executive branches should be kept distinct and separate, as intended by the constitution. The hearing was closed.

Henry Stedding appeared for his resolve to provide that all judges shall be elected by the people and for not more than five-year terms.

BATTLE IN COURTHOUSE
Man in Hospital With Cuts
—Another Arrested

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—With the arrest of John Sheridan of 1539 Vernon street, Roxbury, and the presence in the relief hospital of his fellow worker, Michael E. Crosson, 1088 Bennington street, East Boston, is revealed that a fight with knife, fists and lungs of combat occurred yesterday's early morning hours in the boiler room of the Pemberton square court house, under the very dome of justice.

They were fellow firemen at the court house, able bodied men to whom hard work and harder knocks are of passing consequence. Rumor of other quarrels in the court house boiler room have come to the ears of the officials, but none complaining and neither of the men made complaint in the present instance.

At an early hour yesterday Crosson was found staggering toward the Relief hospital, Haymarket square, with blood pouring from a knife wound in the left shoulder blade and a more serious cut over the kidneys, which in itself had nearly ended his life.

He walked into the relief station, grimly explained that he had slipped and fallen twice upon an ice pick on the sidewalk, an explanation which the surgeons agreed was impossible of belief.

Sheridan was located and taken to police headquarters. He faced the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, with an explanation of his own but at variance with the ice pick theory.

Every Child Gets Dollar
NEW HAVEN, Jan. 23.—Every child born in the town of Orange from now on will receive a present of a savings bank book showing the deposit of a dollar to its credit at the Orange bank, according to action taken by the directors of that institution at their annual meeting yesterday.

The treasurer was instructed to use the official return of births to the town clerk's office as his guide, and to forward each book to the parents without unnecessary delay.

Women Avoid Operations
When a woman suffering from some form of feminine disorder is told that an operation is necessary, it of course frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital operating table and the surgeon's knife strikes terror to her heart, and no wonder. It is quite true that some of these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but thousands of women have avoided the necessity of an operation by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This fact is attested by the grateful letters they write to us after their health has been restored.

These Two Women Prove Our Claim.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty to owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."
—Mrs. HATFIELD SOWERS, Cary, Me.

Charlotte, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with pains in both sides and was very nervous. If I even lifted a chair it would cause a hemorrhage. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor and I never would get well unless I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health and am the mother of a nice baby girl. You can use this letter to help other suffering women."
—Mrs. ROSA SIMS, 15 Wyona St., Charlotte, N. C.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman submit to a surgical operation without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs. It has restored so many suffering women to health.

All these testimonials are guaranteed genuine and truthful. The original of each came to us entirely unsolicited. They are sincere expressions of gratitude for actual benefits received from the medicine.

PRISON SYSTEM IN MASS.

Governor Foss Wants Reorganization

SEEKS SERVICES OF NEW YORK SUPERINTENDENT

Colonel Joseph F. Scott on Way to Confer With Governor—Formerly Bay State Official

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—Governor Foss is endeavoring to secure the services of Colonel Joseph F. Scott, superintendent of prisons of the state of New York, to reorganize the entire prison system of Massachusetts.

Information to this effect was received from Albany yesterday.

Colonel Scott, it was learned, is now on his way to this city to confer with Governor Foss.

Colonel Scott, if he concludes to come to Massachusetts, will take the place at the head of the Massachusetts prison commission held by Fred G. Pettigrew.

The governor believes that the Charlestown state prison should be abolished and a big penal colony established where the prisoners could work in the open.

The governor believes that the present system undermines both the health and minds of the prisoners and defeats the supposed object of prisons—the reform of those sent there.

Colonel Scott recently disagreed with Governor Selzer and tendered his resignation as superintendent of New York's prisons.

Formerly Bay State Official
He was for years the head of the Concord reformatory, and when he left Massachusetts nine years ago to become the superintendent of the Elmira, N. Y., reformatory, he was tendered a banquet at Young's hotel, at which the higher officials of the state, prominent members of the bench and bar, assembled to pay tribute to him.

In 1911, after serving as the head of the Elmira reformatory for eight years, he was made the head of the New York prisons by Governor Dix.

It is understood that he is desirous of returning to Massachusetts, and that it will not be difficult for Governor Foss to induce him to take the position at the head of the Massachusetts prison commission.

Colonel Scott, who was born in Vermont, and who is a giant in stature, he being 6 feet 4 inches tall, and weighing over 300 pounds, has for years fought against the old methods employed in penal institutions.

He is opposed to the horrors of "dark solitary" confinement; is against the old brutal "padding" and "tricing up," and frowns upon the bread and water and other methods of punishing prisoners.

Have You a Disordered Stomach and Liver?

Do you start the day feeling that the whole world is against you? You cannot hope to "make good" under these circumstances. Nobody can. You must have a clear brain and every organ in perfect trim to do justice to yourself.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery
Will Bring Quick Relief

Dr. R. V. Pierce found years ago that a glyceric extract of Golden Seal and Oregon grape roots, queen's root and bloodroot with black cherry bark, would aid in the assimilation of the food in the stomach, correct liver ills and in nature's own way enrich the blood, tone the entire system and consequently help in the restoration of perfect health. Many who have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery testify that they have been restored to health when suffering from stomach and liver ills. Let this famous old medicine start today to lead you to health and strength.

Now—if you prefer—you can obtain Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription tablets of your druggist at $1 per box, also in 50c size or send 50 one-cent stamps to R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, for a trial box.

You can learn all about hygiene, anatomy, medicine, etc., from the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, a newly revised, up-to-date edition of which is now offered, in cloth covers, post-paid, for 31 cents in one-cent stamps, to cover cost of wrapping and mailing only. Address, Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Don't be poisoned by sluggish bowels. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar coated, tiny granules.

THE BEST PHYSICIANS GAVE HIM UP
"I was attacked with a severe nervous disease, which was caused by a disordered stomach and liver," writes Mr. JAS. D. LEXLEY, of Washburn, Tenn., Route 2, Box 32. "All my friends thought I would die and the best physicians gave me up. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and derived much benefit from same. My case had run too long, it had become so chronic, that nothing would effect a permanent cure, but Dr. Pierce's Medicine has done much for me, and I highly recommend it. I heartily advise its use as a curing tonic, and further advise suffering people to take Dr. Pierce's medicine before their diseases have run so long that there is no chance to be cured."

EXCITEMENT IN MERRIMACK SQ.

Horses on Wild Dash

Stopped by Officer

Dave Petrie

OFFICER DAVID PETRIE.

There was considerable excitement in Merrimack square yesterday afternoon, when a large two-horse truck owned by the Bette mill and loaded with several tons of waste bales, came dashing through the square at a very fast rate of speed. The horses had run away and were going very fast, followed by the driver who had been thrown off, but despite that fact was holding on to the reins and doing all he could to bring his horses to a stop. There were many narrow escapes as there were several people in the vicinity at the time but the closest call was certainly that of Milo Hale, who was seated in an automobile in Merrimack street, when the horses came dashing by between an electric car and the machine. Had it not been for Patrolman David Petrie who grabbed one of the horses by the bridle, a collision would surely have taken place.

The horses hitched to a heavy truck loaded with 15 bales of waste, were being driven up Bridge street by Francis Kennedy of 31 Ford street shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday when one of the animals becoming suddenly frightened started at breakneck speed toward Merrimack street. The other naturally followed and soon the horses had it their own way, for the driver was thrown to the ground, but fortunately escaped without any injury and clung to the reins. The pair of heavy horses increased their speed and turned the corner of Bridge and Merrimack streets on the gallop. The driver, however, managed to drive the frightened animals alongside of a Broadway car at the square without touching the latter, but the sudden turn of the truck upset the load of bales and nine of them rolled into the street. People were shouting to the horses to stop and to the driver to let go of the reins, but the shouts had no effect either on the man or horses and the race was kept up.

When the horses reached a spot opposite Central street, Patrolman David Petrie, at the risk of being injured, jumped at the head of one of the animals and in so doing swung the pair to the left, thus avoiding a collision with an automobile of the Lowell Auto Co., in which was seated Milo Hale. The horses kept on for some 25 yards, but were finally brought to a full stop by the stalwart patrolman, who was later showered with congratulations by the many who witnessed the feat. Mr. Kennedy, the driver, was also highly complimented for holding on to the reins, for had it not been for him and Patrolman Petrie some fatal accident might have occurred. Fortunately there was no damage done. The bales of waste left in the street were later taken up and removed to the mill.

MR. AND MRS. GREGOIRE

Had a Narrow Escape From Injury

BY UNUSUAL ACCIDENT ON PASSENGER TRAIN

Between Fall River and Boston—Wreck Smashed in Most Peculiar Manner

Mr. and Mrs. Pierre L. Gregoire of this city had a narrow escape from serious, if not fatal, injury on a train between Fall River and Boston, Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Gregoire were returning from a business trip to New York. The train was going at a rapid rate of speed when the accident, which is somewhat of a mystery, occurred. They were occupying end seats, Mrs. Gregoire on one side of the car and Mr. Gregoire on the other. There were several other passengers in the car and a thundering noise brought them all to their feet. It seemed for a moment as if the car had left the rails but that was only a momentary delusion. The story is best told in Mr. Gregoire's own words: "We were both occupying end seats and were reading when a noise like the report of cannon broke upon our ears. It seemed to come from the direction of the agent's toilet. I had happened to notice a young man entering there a little time before and the first thought that occurred to me was that he had done something desperate, that he either shot himself or leaped from the window."

"I went to the toilet door and attempted to open it and found that there was something pressing against it. I pressed it open far enough to see broken glass and woodwork and was satisfied that no human hand had performed the work of destruction. The conductor was at my side in a few minutes and we finally succeeded in opening the door. The room was a wreck. The window had been smashed in and glass from the window had pierced the walls. The conductor and his assistant started an investigation but could not ascertain the cause of the trouble. "The brakeman on the car ahead said that he had heard a loud noise under his car a few minutes before and was about to give the signal to stop when the noise ceased. They finally decided it must have been something that the wheels of the car tipped, perhaps a long strip of iron or something of that nature, and tipping or whipping with terrific force it struck the window. That was the nearest they got to the solution of it. If the unknown thing had struck any other window in the car many of us in the car might not have lived to tell the tale. Mrs. Gregoire was seated at the next window, perhaps not more than ten feet away, and had the crash occurred at that window she probably would have been killed and the flying glass and wood would undoubtedly have done serious injury to myself and others. I was present when the car was examined in Boston but no definite conclusion was arrived at by the trainmen as to the cause of the accident."

MANUEL QUEZON WILL DISCUSS PHILIPPINE ISLANDS WITH WILSON

MANUEL L. QUEZON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Manuel Quezon, Philippine delegate to congress, is an ardent advocate of independence for the Philippines. He has arranged for a meeting with President-elect Wilson some time soon and will at that time give to the next executive his ideas concerning the future of the islands. Mr. Quezon is 35 years old and belongs to the nationalist party. He served during the revolution as a member of Aguinaldo's staff. He is an attorney and served as prosecuting attorney under the American rule before being elected provincial governor of Tabayas, his native province.

UNITED IRISH LEAGUE

To Have Eminent Orator From Chicago

The United Irish league has secured through Humphrey O'Sullivan, P. J. O'Keefe, Esq., one of the most eloquent lawyers in Chicago, to lecture in Association hall on March 15. Mr. O'Keefe will accept no remuneration for his services or his expenses in coming here, giving the lecture for the benefit of the Irish cause.

The local branch of the league expects to make this one of the most meetings ever held here, as Mr. O'Keefe is a distinguished orator. A concert program will also be rendered. The proceeds will go to help redeem the pledge of the league to raise $500 this year for the home rule movement. The local branch, of which John Rafferty is president, will probably hold a meeting on Sunday. The old members are to be invited to assist in making this meeting a success.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 23.—A delegation headed by Senator O'Gorman of New York has urged President-elect

Wilson to name Thomas F. Conway, formerly lieutenant governor of New York, as his attorney general. The backers of Mr. Conway are not affiliated with Charles F. Murphy.

LEATHER WORKERS INSTALL

Inducted Newly Elected Officers of the Organization Recently—Reports Read and Musical Program Given

The members of the Leather Workers union held their semi-annual installation of officers recently in their hall. There was also a financial report by the treasurer and considerable routine business was transacted. The officers installed were the following: President, Charles Shanley; vice president, James Brennan; secretary, William F. Linton; financial secretary, C. P. Sullivan; treasurer, George Wessan; board of trustees, Thomas McEadden, Theodore Buckley, Harry Ross and John Corey.

During the evening a musical program was rendered as follows: Song, John Finnegan; whistling solo, James Coleman; piano solo, Theodore Buckley; duet, Daniel McEever and Harry Ross; song, Allan Neaves and Charles Walden. The last number was the hit of the evening. Mr. Charles Riley was the accompanist.

ON 35TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Sarah H. Hildreth Held Informal Reception in Westford Tuesday—Is Beloved by Townsfolk

Mrs. Sarah H. Hildreth is perhaps the oldest person in Westford, for on last Tuesday she attained the fine age of 95 years. During the day she held an informal reception to her friends who called upon her and extended congratulations. She lives with Miss Martha Hildreth, her daughter, and assists at the work about the home. Her chief diversions are reading and sewing, for her eyesight is as good as it was years ago.

Mrs. Sarah Hildreth was born on Jan. 21, 1818, in the vicinity of the town; her parents were Sarah and Samuel Clark of Littleton. She was united in marriage to James Hildreth on Jan. 3, 1841, and four of her seven children are alive at the present day. She is greatly beloved by the townsfolk.

INFORMER SIPP IS KEPT BUSY IN HUNT FOR GRAFT IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—George A. Sipp, who formerly conducted a questionable hotel in this city, and whose stories of payments for protection have resulted in several indictments, is kept busy with his appearances before the grand jury and the police trial court.

Patrolman Fox, accused by Sipp, is on trial, and the case has been continued until Jan. 24, because Sipp was called before the grand jury to testify against attorneys he accuses of trying to bribe him to leave New York. Howard Sipp, his son, has corroborated Sipp's testimony in many respects.

COTTON GINNED IN 1912 TWO WAGONS COLLIDED

13,091,264 Bales During the Year Accident in Decatur St. ---No One Injured

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The Ninth cotton ginning report of the census bureau for the season, issued at 10 o'clock this morning, announced that 13,091,264 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, of the growth of 1912 had been ginned prior to Thursday, January 15, to which date during the past seven years the ginning averaged 95.3 per cent of the entire crop. Last year to January 16 there had been ginned 14,515,759 bales, or 92.3 per cent of the entire crop; in 1908 to that date, 12,665,293 bales, or 96.8 per cent, and in 1906 to that date 12,176,199 bales, or 93.8 per cent.

Included in the ginnings were 73,552 round bales, compared with 97,654 bales last year, 111,079 bales in 1910, 116,578 bales in 1909 and 232,510 bales in 1908. The number of Sea Island cotton bales included were 70,760 compared with 109,557 bales last year, 92,191 bales in 1908, and 90,237 bales in 1909.

Boy of 12 Drowned

M'ARTHUR, GITSHAW AND LEWIS, OLYMPIC HEROES TO BE PENSIONED BY THE SOUTH AFRICANS

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Jan. 23.—In order to prevent its Olympic heroes from becoming professionals the executive committee of the South African Amateur Athletic and Cycling association has endorsed the recommendation of the chairman, Henry Nourse, to purchase annuities for M'Arthur, Gitshaw and Lewis as a reward for their successes in the Olympic games at Stockholm last July. This is to take the form of a pension of $20 a month.

McArthur captured the classic Marathon, and Gitshaw finished second. Lewis won the long distance cycling race. Picture shows South African friends of the Marathoners carrying their favorites on their shoulders.

ALGY THE COP

$225,320,900 FIRE LOSS IN 1912

In the United States and Canada
as Against $234,337,250
in 1911

The losses by fire in the United States and Canada during the 12 months ending Dec. 31, 1912, as shown by the New York Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin, a recognized authority on fire insurance statistics, were somewhat less than those recorded for the two preceding years.

The figures for 1912 are $225,320,900, as compared with $234,337,250 charged against 1911, and $241,470,450 recorded in 1910.

The losses for the first two months of 1913 were extremely heavy and started the year with an enormous handicap to catch up to ensure a normal year's underwriting. During the balance of the year the losses were moderate by comparison, but it was noted that a relatively larger proportion of improved and insured property was destroyed than was the case in preceding years.

The fire losses during 1912 were widely distributed throughout the country, no section suffering to an exceptional degree. Insurance companies operating throughout the New England states, as a general proposition, had a very unsatisfactory year's underwriting. This is not due to any particular conflagration epidemic, but to the steady drain of fires causing losses of from $10,000 to $50,000. No one state, with perhaps the possible exception of Connecticut, will show anything like a satisfactory loss ratio. The figures showing the experience of the companies in the various states will not be completed for some weeks yet.

The disquieting feature noted in compiling the statistics is that incendiarism appears to be on the increase. This may be, however, due to increased efforts on the part of slau-authorities to learn the causes of fires. It is that at no time in the history of this country has there been given so much attention to the problem of reducing the national ash heap as at the present time, and the general public, as evidenced by the adoption of "Fire Prevention Days" in many states, appears to be awakening to the necessity of action on its part to secure a reduction of the annual drain consequent upon the destruction of vast values by fire.

The record of fire losses by months affords an interesting comparison with the monthly losses of 1910 and 1911. It will be noted that during the two preceding years, contrary to normal conditions, the losses during the summer months have been extremely heavy, reflecting the severe climatic conditions, whereas in 1912 the severe cold of the first two months produced the heaviest losses.

The following table gives the losses by months during 1911 and 1912:

	1911	1912
January	$21,922,450	$35,552,150
February	16,416,900	28,601,650
March	11,569,300	16,559,850
April	11,670,550	16,849,400
May	21,432,000	21,013,250
June	20,891,350	16,108,450
July	25,301,150	15,219,100
August	12,662,650	14,168,800
September	11,383,250	13,776,300
October	13,945,000	18,651,650
November	18,680,800	16,172,850
December	22,722,850	17,907,000
Total for year	$234,337,250	$225,320,900

"HOWERY MISSION BOYS"

1500 Given Feast Beef Dinner Through Mrs. Gould in Honor of Her Wedding

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Fifteen hundred "howery mission boys" had roast beef, turnips, bread, coffee and apple pie for supper last night, the gift of Helen Miller Gould in honor of her marriage to Finley J. Shepard.

In groups of several hundred, the "boys" formed in line on the sidewalks near the mission, rushed hungrily to the tables and after eating their fill, united in resolutions of thanks to Miss Gould for her "beautiful act in remembering us in this most auspicious moment of her earthly career."

The diners cheered a message of encouragement from Governor Sulzer. Everybody hurrahed when a speaker said that their benefactor "instead of thinking about her trousseau, and hats and gowns, as other brides do, was thinking of you men."

War on Anti-Saloon League
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—War to the knife on the Anti-Saloon League of America was declared by the National Liquor Dealers Association, which has completed its annual convention here.

In groups of several hundred, the "boys" formed in line on the sidewalks near the mission, rushed hungrily to the tables and after eating their fill, united in resolutions of thanks to Miss Gould for her "beautiful act in remembering us in this most auspicious moment of her earthly career."

Resolution also were adopted advocating the re-establishment of the center in the army, abrogation of brewery ownership of leases on saloons and urging closer understanding between liquor dealers and the excise authorities.

WHIPPING IN HOSPITAL

Charges Made Against Lynn Institution

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—Charges of children being whipped, patients given no attention and a matron in whose hands the superintendent was but a "puppet," were made against the Lynn smallpox hospital at a hearing before the Lynn municipal council yesterday.

Affidavits were presented in support of these charges, which were primarily made against the board of health, and the hearing was continued until Wednesday in order to afford the board time for investigation.

It was declared that Mrs. Alice Chase, the matron, was harsh and overbearing to nurses and patients alike, that she arose at 3 o'clock each morning and forced a nurse to give her a body massage each day.

John Gagnon, whose wife and children are confined to the hospital, which is located in Swampscott, presented an affidavit showing that they were not receiving proper attention.

He said that they were isolated in the woods with only a female nurse, that the doctor never entered the building, and that there was not a man within calling distance.

Says He Roomed at Large
Napoleon Plante made affidavit that he was allowed to work, walk about and go to the theatre after being examined by physicians at the order of the board of health, and that it was several days before they could determine whether he had smallpox.

Mrs. Lucy Newhall of Newton Highlands and Mrs. A. Pariseau of Lynn, who formerly were employed at the hospital, declared that Superintendent J. C. Heavins was simply "a puppet in the hands of Mrs. Chase," who they said was practically superintendent.

They charged that Mrs. Chase had been guilty of "chastely removing hospital supplies" from the institution, that she arose at 3 o'clock each morning and forced one of the nurses to massage her body. They also declared that children were frequently whipped at the hospital and that Mrs. Chase was harsh and overbearing to nurses and patients alike.

O'LEARY HOME MEETING

Work of Year Reviewed by the Matron

OFFICERS ELECTED AND REPORTS HEARD
Request of Mrs. Ellinwood Paid to Home—Solon W. Stevens Again Chosen as President

Considerable business was transacted at the annual meeting of the Children's Home on Kirk street. The president, Solon W. Stevens, called the meeting to order. The treasurer, Edward W. Trull, read his report, showing that the finances of the organization are in a good condition. The cash receipts for the year are $3149.87, and all bills are paid, with a balance in the treasury. Officers were elected for the coming year as follows:

President, Solon W. Stevens; vice-president, Edward W. Trull; clerk, Warren L. Floyd; treasurer, Edward W. Trull; Ellen O'Leary, matron.

Committee on finance and repairs: Warren L. Floyd, Solon W. Stevens, E. W. Trull, Edward E. Slattery, Joseph W. Griffin and William A. Johnson, M. D.

Committee on management and supplies: Mrs. Frank A. Smith, Mrs. Emma Carl, Ellen O'Leary, Mrs. Gordon Tweed, Mrs. W. L. Robertson, Mrs. Harry Knapp, Mrs. F. M. Bill, Mrs. C. E. Meader, Mrs. James McKinley, Mrs. W. K. Lathrop, Mrs. Harry G. Pollard, Mrs. Charles S. Shepherd, Mrs. John D. Billing.

Committee on entertainments: Solon W. Stevens, Mrs. Harry Knapp, Mrs. W. L. Robertson, Mrs. F. A. Smith, Mrs. Harry G. Pollard.

A letter from Rev. George F. Kennog was read by the clerk, commending the work of the home.

Joseph W. Griffin, Mrs. Charles E. Shepherd and Mrs. John B. Pilling were chosen as members of the corporation.

Mrs. Ellinwood's Gift
Edward W. Trull read the following letter, which was gladly received, and the clerk was instructed to send a vote of thanks to Mr. Ellinwood:

West Chelmsford, Jan. 7, 1913.
Edward W. Trull, Treasurer, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: Enclosed find check in sum of fifty dollars, as bequeathed Children's Home, my modest contribution.

Kindly send me receipt at your convenience.
Yours very truly,
Loren J. Ellinwood.

The Matron's Report
The matron's report for 1912 was as follows:

Another year has rolled away and we enter the 12th year of service in providing a temporary home for the care and support of minor children of all ages and of other work connected therewith. The past 11 years have been filled with work and blessings. On January 1, 1912, there were 41 children here. During the year 1912 new children have been received, 20 have returned to us, making a total of 106. Of this number 24 have paid, 57 part paid and 55 free. Besides the children, seven mothers have found shelter here, where they could be with their little ones until some other way opened for them.

Following are some of those provided for in 1912: A woman came from the hospital with a child, remained with us for two weeks, then found work. Another woman goes to the tuberculosis camp for treatment, and her six children, two of them less than four years of age, come here; four of them would have gone to the Ayer home, but there was sickness in the home at the time and Mrs. Tarr, the matron, telephoned that if we could take all the children for a while, just as soon as the sickness was over she would take the four older ones, which she did, the two younger ones staying with us until the fall when the mother returned from the camp. Then a man leaves his wife with four children. She puts them here, goes to work and after three days the kind hearted father returns and the family are reunited. Then a mother neglects her family of three children. The father brings them here, pays their board, and after a while the mother comes back and promises to do better, and the children go home again. Next a friend telephones to know if we can take a little boy whose mother is obliged to go to the hospital and has no place for him. Of course I said "yes," for we never refuse children when we can possibly make a place for them. In the summer a Polish woman with two children came from Lawrence and at the square she inquired for a home for children, and was sent here. In a little while she found work in one of the mills and we got a place with another Polish woman where she could board and put her children in the nursery for the day. She is a steady, industrious woman. Her husband is dead.

Then Mr. Slattery, probation officer, telephones to say there is a woman in his office with a sad story whom he is going to send to us, and if we can do anything for her it will be real charity. The woman came with the same old story, her husband had gone away with another woman, left his wife in a delicate condition and three little children, no money or food in the house. We took the family and they were here for five weeks. We made arrangements with the Lowell General hospital to have the mother go there, which she did, and after two weeks returned to us with a lovely little girl. After another week Mr. Slattery sent the family to Worcester where they came from. Then two children, their mother left them and the father brought them here and after a week the mother returned and came with the father for the children. Then a Greek brings his little girl here for two weeks. His mother is in hospital. Another mother, having two children is taken sick with a very bad cold and cough. Her physician says she ought to go to the hospital, but when she thinks of her two little ones, she says she cannot go, but will try and get well at home. She did not realize how ill she was and finally last week she was taken to the hospital and the children came here. The father could find no one to take them, and he could not leave his work to care for them. We will pay their board here, and we hope, in a short time, their mother will be well again.

In January, a young Greek woman died, leaving besides her husband, a babe 10 days old. Some one told him of the home and he brought baby Vasilis here. She is growing fast and is a great pet in the family. Then we have two children whose mother was found dead in her bed, two others, whose father was drowned at Lakeview last summer.

The home being centrally located and the children received without any investigation, gives us a great deal of this temporary work to do. Then we cooperate with the police station, humane society and other homes in their care for children. Besides this temporary work, we have our regular children, some of whom came to us in infancy and are now in the grammar school. We have children whose mothers brought them here, and we have lost all trace of the mothers. These children are kept here and are made to realize that this is their home, and no matter what their parents are, they can make good men and women. We are beginning to see this reflected in the lives of some of the boys and girls who have passed through the home. They are out in the world working; they come often to see us; and they are young people that any home might well be proud of.

The year has been marked by very little sorrow. No epidemic has visited us. We have had our annual board party, donation work, Thanksgiving and Christmas, and on all of these days there have been large contributions of money and provisions. Several times there have been special appeals in the daily papers which always bring a ready response, and we are now ready to face all such appeals. We have had our annual auto ride given by the Young People's society of the First Congregational church, and in September, enjoyed the auto ride given to all the homes of our city. Many of our children had good times in the country with friends of the home. We had our annual donation of free car tickets from the Bay Street Railway Co., and every day some of us had a day at Beverly beach and enjoyed a dip in the ocean.

January 1, 1913, we held our annual reception, when the children gave a fine entertainment. Friends are ever mindful of the home and its needs, and seldom does a day pass, but some gift is received. In June, Mr. L. M. Babcock gave an entertainment from which we received $52. We have had four checks of $25 each, and all other money received came in smaller amounts. All bills have been paid and a small balance left in the treasury. Some of the gifts came from those who have helped the home every year since the work started, and each succeeding year we and new names added to our list.

In the beginning of this work, some said it could not be carried on without a fund back of it; but that was a mistake, for we see what has been done and believe that more could be done if we had a larger house, with a playground. Forty-five children fill this house, and when we take more, we crowd a little. In May we had 52 children here for a few weeks and we put cots in the living room at night to accommodate them. This room is on the first floor and serves as office, reception and committee room, also dining room for some of the older children. We are still hopeful that some time we will have a larger place.

We look back over the years, we remember with deep gratitude the many women and children who have helped to make the home what it is, and extend our sincere thanks to all. The home is open every day (Sunday excepted) to visitors, and friends are most cordially invited to call and see the children and the home.

Respectfully submitted,
Miss Ellen O'Leary.

Investigate Guggenheim Suit
CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Investigation into the testimony presented before Judge Held of the circuit court in the case of Mrs. Grace Brown Herbert Guggenheim-Wahl in her suit for the setting aside of the divorce of William Guggenheim of New York, may be taken up by the grand jury. The suit recently was dismissed.

Chief Justice Jesse Baldwin of the circuit court admitted today that he had sent a letter to State Attorney Herlihy regarding the Guggenheim suit and said the contents were of sufficient importance to demand an investigation, but he refused to further discuss the matter.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Central Drug Co., of Detroit, Mich., says: "We consider your Castoria in a class distinct from patent medicines and commend it."

Christy Drug Stores, of Pittsburg, Pa., say: "We have sold your Castoria for so many years with such satisfactory results that we cannot refrain from saying a good word for it when we get a chance."

Jacob Bros., of Philadelphia, Pa., say: "We take pleasure in recommending Fletcher's Castoria as one of the oldest and best of the preparations of the kind upon the market."

Heess & McCann, of Kansas City, Mo., say: "Your Castoria always gives satisfaction. We have no substitute for it and only sell 'The Kind You Have Always Bought,' the original."

The Voegell Bros., of Minneapolis, Minn., say: "We wish to say that we have at all times a large demand for Fletcher's Castoria at all of our three stores and that it gives universal satisfaction to our trade."

Polk Miller Drug Co., of Richmond, Va., says: "Your Castoria is one of the most satisfactory preparations we have ever handled. It seems to satisfy completely the public demand for such an article and is steadily creating a growing sale by its merit."

P. A. Capdan, of New Orleans, La., says: "We handle every good home remedy demanded by the public and while our shelves are thoroughly equipped with the best of drugs and proprietary articles, there are few if any which have the widespread sale that your Castoria has."

M. C. Dow, of Cincinnati, Ohio, says: "When people in increasing numbers purchase a remedy and continue buying it for years; when it passes the fad or experimental stage and becomes a household necessity, then it can be said its worth has been firmly established. We can and do gladly offer this kind of commendation to Fletcher's Castoria."

There were several very good matches rolled off at the Crescent alleys last night. The Shop and the Draftsmen of the Lowell-Saco bowling league were opponents, the Shop team winning all three strings as well as the total. Goodchild of the defeated team was high man with a mark of 236 for his thirty boxes.

Two teams in the Beaver Mills bowling league also scattered duck-pins around the Crescent alleys last evening. The Office and Dyeing Dept. teams composed of but three men, played two close games. The Office was successful in both contests. Wilson, the Collinsville bookkeeper, was the high man both in singles and totals.

Dyeing Dept.—R. Freeman, 266; B. Manning, 242; G. Freeman, 252. Total 760.

Billiards Men Bowled

The married and single men of the Billiards club rolled on the Crescent alleys last night and the result was a victory for the single men. The score:

Single Men—Garner, 224; Rutledge, 272; Hostwick, 242; L. Perry, 268; Chandler, 252. Total 1358.

Married Men—R. Perry, 264; Davidson, 245; Chambers, 218; Nickerson, 253; Sub, 235. Total 1241.

Points by Default

The J. P. S. team failed to appear last night at the Moody Bridge alleys to play off their scheduled game with the L. O. M. bowling team. The latter were awarded the game by default and rolled a practice three-string of 1315. It looks as though the J. P. S. were sensible to stay away. The score:

L. O. M.—Byer, 270; Blanchette, 243; Peltier, 245; Boucher, 254; Lebrun, 272. Total 1315.

KICK AT HIGH PRICES

Students Oppose Paying
$2 for Hockey Game

There is certainly some vigorous kicking being done by the Harvard undergraduates on account of the exorbitant price-list for seats at the Yale-Harvard hockey game to be played at the Boston Arena Feb. 1. Seats are to be sold at $2 each and box reservations $7. These prices do not seem to appeal to the students' sense of proportion.

The prices of tickets for the best seats in fact the seats are all one price for the Yale-Harvard football game, is only $2. The students figure that if the greatest athletic event of the year is only $2, that the hockey game ought to be considerably less instead of more, which seems very good logic.

The Boston Arena will accommodate about four thousand people and the Harvard association could make hockey pay with a much smaller admission fee. The association has taken no action on the "wall" as yet, but the entire college is waiting to see what its attitude will be.

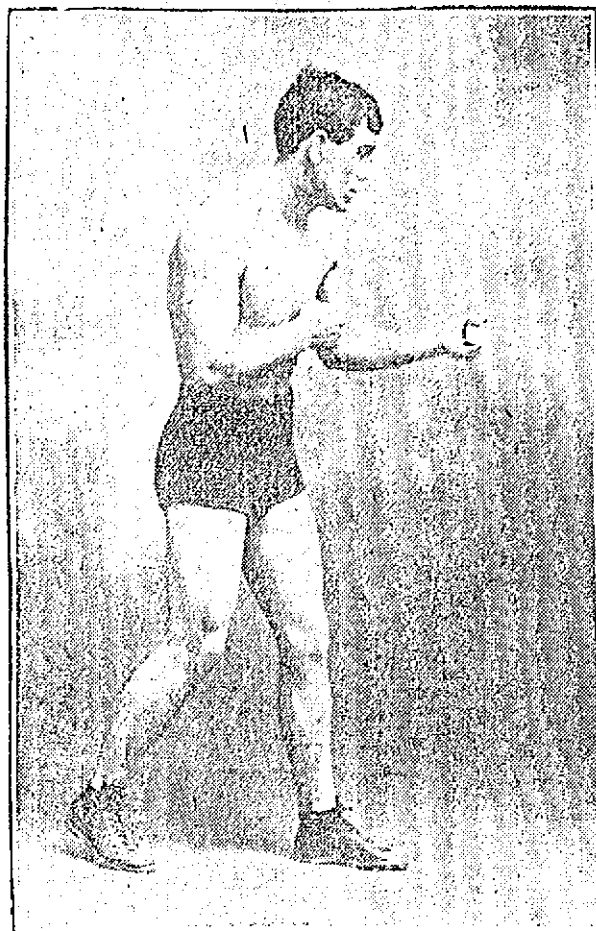

Bundings Going to Methuen

If the weather man is kind, the Bundings will journey to Methuen on Saturday to play the down-river team in the game that barks many shins. The soccer game is becoming more popular with each succeeding season as the attendance plainly demonstrates. The Bundings club is planning on putting a baseball team into the field this coming season, as there are many members of the club who prefer the American game to cricket. With the baseball and cricket teams playing on alternate dates there will certainly be no lack of athletic activity at the South Lowell club.

Fixed Hurdles Recommended

The executive committee of the inter-collegiate association (track) has decided to recommend fixed hurdles, used in England at present, instead of our American style. The hurdles used now in American track games are set on a rack which can quite easily be thrown down by striking during the flight. In England the fixed hurdle is used, that is, the up-rights of the hurdles are imbedded in the ground. Probably the executive committee knows what it is doing, but England's athletes, who have never had a chance, even over their own style of fixed hurdles, with American athletes coached over American style flights of hurdles. Whatever advantage there may be from this change will soon be shown at the inter-collegiate at least.

The committee also adopted Coach Olinck plan of increasing the weight of the hammer to 21 pounds and reducing the length of the handle to three feet. The Harvard trainer's plan was adopted instead of the petition to abolish this event.

YOUNG McDONOUGH

DOHAN COMING TO LOWELL

Good Shape

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Johnny Dohan, the Bronx lightweight, left here last night for Lowell where on Friday night he meets Young McDonough of Manchester in a 12-round bout. Dohan closed a deal whereby he is to meet the winner of the Leach Cross-Young Shugrue match at New York in February. Dohan was also approached for a match with Young Brown, the boxer who sold out the popular award over Matt

Wells, the dethroned English lightweight champion. The Bronx lightweight promises to be kept quite busy for the next month or more with all the matches that have been offered him. He has several dates to fill in New England cities after which he will return home and fill his New York dates. As soon as Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight, arrives here, Dohan will immediately look for a return match with the Britisher. Dohan already holds a 10-round draw with Welsh and is very anxious for another meeting as he feels certain that he can wipe out the draw decision. He is in perfect boxing form for his meeting with the hardy New Hampshire lightweight, McDonough.

The other bouts to be staged at the local club in conjunction with the Dohan-McDonough match are good ones, and include Doyle vs. Edwards, McSouth vs. Young Martin and Young Pitke vs. Jimmy Hendon. The first bout will start at 8:15 o'clock.

KANSAS AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE
TO CELEBRATE 50th ANNIVERSARY

Henry J. Waters, president of Kansas State Agricultural college, with some of his students thrashing wheat and the prize herd of the college

When an institution so big and so useful in many varied ways as the Kansas state agricultural college reaches its fiftieth year and decides to celebrate the occasion it is well for the world to take cognizance of the fact. Therefore let it be spread on the record that next June the college, which is the highest thing of its kind on earth, will call together its daughters and its sons and its friends and will have a jubilee in grateful acknowledgment of the fact that it has lived fifty years. Just how the celebration will shape itself is not yet decided, although the college has been thinking about the affair since last June.

Kansas state agricultural college leads the entire world of agricultural schools in America and elsewhere. In the number of students who pursue its general and special courses and in the number of buildings which house them, Kansas offers to its students courses in every line of agricultural education and domestic science, but it is not pudding up over the fact. It knows and acknowledges modestly that it is thorough and painstaking and that in most ways its tuition is not to be surpassed.

But it also admits that perhaps some other colleges excel it in special branches of agriculture. For instance, Wisconsin's famous college at Madison is the superior of Kansas, and prouder of every other agricultural college on earth, in dairying.

The latest figures give Kansas state agricultural college 2523 students, with 167 members of the teaching staff and 38,500 volumes in the library. The students are recruited from every section and the teaching staff is recruited from time to time by additions from other colleges and universities. The head of the entire institution is Henry J. Waters, who was formerly director of the Missouri state agricultural college and has done much to build up the Kansas agricultural.

The recent mention of the name of President Waters for the position of

GROWTH OF SOCCER GAME

Expert Writer Furnishes
Accurate Account

In a January number of the Athletic News, Titurus, the well known authority on soccer football, makes mention of the wonderful increase in the popularity of the game during the past half dozen years. The game is booming all over the world, he says, and our consuls across the water are deeply interested in its growth and progress in America. The sporting writer mentioned predicts a brilliant future for the English soccer game in this country and so far everything seems to favor the fulfillment of his prophecy.

The following figures will give one an idea of the favor into which the game is fast springing.

Year	No. Clubs	No. Members
1904	294	5,277
1905	321	12,814
1906	432	21,162
1907	555	32,779
1908	730	44,261
1909	821	53,770
1910	1,053	82,326
1911	1,361	109,577
1912	1,630	137,663

As these figures are official and correct in every particular, it is quite clear that in Germany alone the game is no longer in its infancy—and these statistics, of course, do not take account of Austria, France, Belgium, Holland and Denmark, where the game is well established. I have only mentioned those continental countries in northern and central Europe where the game is a vogue.

In regard to the game being taken up by the colleges, Titurus said:

"As I have said again and again, association football is advancing as a popular game all over the world. In 'The American Cricketer' for December, a really excellent little magazine, I notice that at the University of Pennsylvania association football is rapidly assuming a place above that of minor importance. There are three teams, and many good candidates for places. The attendance reports shows a daily average of over 60 candidates, over 40 of whom have had previous football experience.

"Moreover the game is springing up in the schools of Philadelphia. In connection with the colleges there is an inter-collegiate league, but unfortunately the faculty of Princeton at present prohibits that university from joining the league.

"If once the association code gets a firm grip on America we shall realize what enthusiasm can be, and what the ingenuity of an inventive and quick-thinking people can do."

Olympics Celebrate

LAWRENCE, Jan. 23.—The Limps held their first annual dance last evening at Truell hall. The first Columbian orchestra furnished excellent music for dancing and Messrs. Gilmartin, Mowley and Crotch, the Olympic trio, gave vocal selections at intervals. The gathering was very enjoyable, especially so for the splendid victory. The Limps gained over Andover on Saturday has aroused great enthusiasm among their supporters.

GALLANT BEATS NIXON

Good Bout at Manchester
Last Night

MANCHESTER, N. H., January 23.—Gilbert Gallant of Chelsea, shaded Billy Nixon of Cambridge in a 12-round bout in "Mechanics" hall last night before a large crowd and received the decision. It was a fine exhibition of the boxing game, with few hard blows being delivered by either man, and both being apparently as fresh at the close as when the bout opened.

Gallant was, wild in almost every round, his best meant blows falling far short of the mark, but he showed cleverness in getting under Nixon's left-hand punches. He shaded Nixon in seven of the rounds, and in none of the remaining five but Nixon have an undisputed lead.

In the semi-final Young Josephs of Lowell gave Young Mayo of Hiddford a bad beating, the Maine boxer getting the better of the second round only.

In the preliminary Kid Demar and Young Bradley of Manchester furnished a rattling exhibition with the honors even. Billy Walker was the referee.

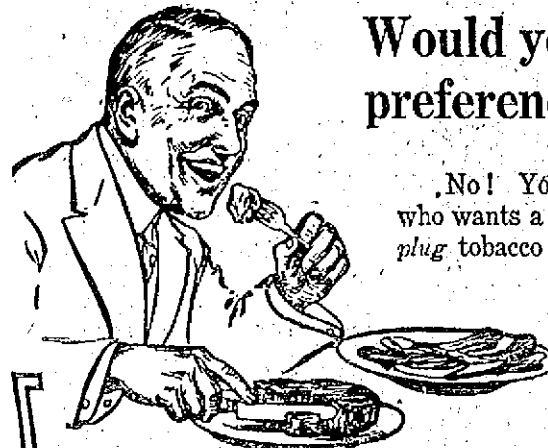

BENTING CRICKET CLUB

Will Hold Its Regular Quarterly Meeting in Elks Hall Friday Evening at 8 O'Clock

The Bunting cricket club will hold its regular quarterly meeting in Elks hall, Middle street, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The financial officers will submit their reports for the last three months for approval and several amendments to the by-laws will be acted upon. The board of directors intend to ask the members to vote favorably on the proposition to raise the dues of the members from one dollar to two dollars per year. It is also proposed to amend the by-laws so that in future all quarterly meetings of the club shall be held at the club house in Wigginsville instead of "down city" as formerly.

secretary of agriculture in the cabinet of President Wilson called forth a chorus of commendation from Kansas, although mixed with it there was a note of regret for the possibility of his leaving the college.

Of course the glory of the Kansas agricultural college, as that of every other school, lies in the women and men who stand forth from its doors to spread abroad the measure of its usefulness. Just now Kansas is priding itself especially upon Miss Manette Myers of Raton, New Mexico, recently appointed state director of industrial education of New Mexico.

Would you eat dried beef in preference to a juicy steak?

No! You would take the steak! The man who wants a sweet, cool, fragrant smoke, prefers plug tobacco to sliced or granulated tobacco, because plug tobacco has more flavor and fragrance.

The real tobacco flavor depends upon the natural moisture in the leaf. The only way to preserve all this flavor is to press the leaves into plug form and keep the moisture in by covering it with a natural leaf wrapper.

Tin cans, cloth bags or waxed paper packages do not keep in all the moisture of granulated tobacco. Some of the flavor departs when the moisture evaporates. The drier tobacco is the hotter it smokes—the more it bites your tongue.

With Master Workman Plug you can cut a fresh pipeful whenever you smoke and everytime will find it the freshest—sweetest—smoothest—coolest tobacco you ever stuffed into a pipe. Try it today and convince yourself. You'll say Master Workman makes a sweet pipe sweeter.

CONFIDENCE IN SELF

Is Essential in Athletics—

Straight Tips

Here is a little tip for you fellows who are going into competition in any line—make the other fellow think that you are better than he is, and think so yourself. If you have the latter idea firmly fixed in your head you are going to convince him with your own confidence. By that I don't mean to be so swellheaded that you don't properly fit yourself for a race. But the man who is fit and steps up to the mark with the opinion that he could give the record holder in his particular event the race of his life is the man who will be heard from when the judges file their report. I know it because I have been there. The first time that I ran "Nat" Sherman, at that time holder of the century record, in the Brown inter-scholastics and runner-up in all the big New England meets, my best friends never gave me a chance of a win. Sherman later was a fraternity brother of mine at college and could beat me to a frazzle any day that I ran "Nat". But that day I had the idea in my head that I could beat him, and the fact made him so nervous that he "blew up" at the 30-yard mark. So, boys, get the idea that you must win into your heads or stay out of the competition.

Another thing—there is time enough to be a good fellow after the sport is decided. Stay away from your opponents until after you are through with your event. Stay by yourself prior to the contest and fix your mind on the one fact, that you are going to win. This applies to the time existing between your dressing up and the competing. With a concentration of the mind the nerves and muscles will respond much more quickly and to better advantage.

It is an easy matter to go out and beat a man whom you have repeatedly beaten before. Yet how many men have been mightily surprised at beating their best mark, when being pushed by a man whom they had beaten before! Reidpath of Syracuse did it last spring. And if a man can beat his own mark by trimming a man he has previously beaten he can do exactly the same with a man whose reputation is greater than his own. The psychology is the same in both cases—by thinking you are going to win you strengthen your own chances and at the same time weaken the other fellow's.

Howers Good 1000 Yards Man

The high school track team is very fortunate in having a man like Howers to take care of the 1000 yards run. This is an event about which, as a rule, there is not much certainty, especially on a small track, but Howers has proved himself a very consistent performer in the past two years' work. Possessed of little or no form, he shows that the distance is covered, he shows remarkable standing-up power and a nervy finish. These two qualities are the essential factors of a good distance man. If this boy was taught to finish with the form that he starts a race with he would easily be placed in the big B. A. meet in Boston this winter.

Youngsters Look Good

Two youngsters who are out with the track squad at the annex are liable to make them all hustle in the straight-away dash. Cunningham and Libbey are both fast boys, being quick starters and strong finishers. The red-headed youth is also going well over the hurdles, topping the low timbers in fine style. Better look out for these two boys, Captain Bailey!

HINTS FOR OFFICE GIRLS

Some Valuable Suggestions for the Ladies

If you are out in office, street or shop every day or only some days do not neglect to clean away all traces of dust and grime before retiring. Leaving such deposits to clog up the pores of the skin during the hours of slumber spells ruin to any complexion regardless of how clear and dazzling it may have been in the first flush of early youth.

The first aid in the fight against a rough and muddy skin is a pure cleansing cream. Tie a towel or linen cloth lightly around the head, being careful to confine the edges of the hair and so prevent the cream from giving a damp, stringy appearance just where the cuticle should be soft and fluffy. Make sure that the hands are clean, then dip the ends of the fingers into the cleansing cream, applying it generously to the face, brow, chin and neck. Rub it lightly over the skin, taking care that every crevice is covered.

Have a soft, dry cloth ready and immediately after the application wipe the cream away with a firm stroke. You will be amazed at the grime which comes away with the cream.

When the skin is wiped dry take a sponge and go over the skin with a good astringent guaranteed to contain an ingredient which will counteract the cream, thus eliminating any danger of encouraging the growth of superfluous hair.

If there is a tendency on the part of the skin to draw or if tiny wrinkles are making their appearance a massage or nourishing cream must follow the lotion. This cream should be free from oils unless they be of a nature not to increase the growth of superfluous hair. Apply this cream sparingly and massage it well into the face, remembering to iron out wrinkles with a gentle rotary movement and to stroke the cheeks with an upward movement, never downward.

If you are to remain at home all evening or intend to retire after the treatment do not use powder. Leave the pores free to breathe during the night.

Don't Bite Your Lips

Lip biting will mar the prettiest face ever turned out of nature's workshop. All the lip salves and glycerine lotions introduced upon the toilet table will not remedy the parched, cracked appearance due to a continual lip gnawing process. Not until the habit is entirely broken off is there any hope of a change. Girls frequently drift into this ugly practice through a foolish vanity that prompts them to "wear their dimples" all the time. Others bite their lips from nervousness, and sometimes if a girl has pale, colorless lips she will try to vivify them by an occasional pressure with her teeth. After a time, however, she bites away unconsciously, and by and by her mouth loses its pretty curves, becomes rough and puffy looking, and all the charm of her face is gone.

IDLE HOUR CAMPERS' COTILLION AT ASSOCIATE HALL A GREAT SUCCESS

Woodrow Wilson might not have approved of some of the dances that were indulged in at the Idle Hour Campers' cotillion last night, in Associate hall, but since the president-elect doesn't seem to like any kind of dancing, we won't quote him as an authority on the subject, and will proceed about our own business. For those whose curiosity we have aroused, we will say that several varieties of the Boston were observed with a few others of a novel character, but there was nothing in the least objectionable in any of the dances. In fact the stiffer dances were observed throughout and the young people seemed to be having a mighty good time.

People who know say that last night's affair was the "best yet," that it not only eclipsed the other social festivities of the present year, but that it was even better than the former cotillions held by the same club, and that's "going some," as our friend "Shakespeare" would say.

The color scheme for the lavishly decorated was bright red and white, the colors of the Idle Hour Campers. The windows were hung with white lace curtains and the walls were covered with garlands of red and white. Colored streamers were swung down from the ceiling to the sides of the hall, and the chandeliers were trimmed with greenery, while the glow of the electric light was softened by red shades. Across the sides of the balcony were festoons with white bunting, that was gracefully caught up here and there with bunches of red flowers, while red anchors were placed at short intervals. At the end of the bunting was a fringe of tiny red and white anchors, that fluttered prettily whenever a breeze blew in from a nearby window.

The patronesses were made comfortable in a cosy corner at the left hand side of the hall. The stage was trimmed with red and white, with a large red anchor in the background. Across the front was a dainty trellis-work, entwined with red flowers and greenery, and behind this, a bank of tall palms hid the orchestra from view.

Minor's orchestra furnished the music for the occasion, and gave a fine concert, including a symphonic number before the dancing began. There were 15 dances and four extras in the order, with an intermission during which light refreshments were served, after the cotillion.

The cotillion began at 8 o'clock and was led by John E. O'Donnell, and Mrs. O'Donnell, followed by a hundred other couples. The march was watched with much interest by the many spectators in the balcony, who were generous with their applause, especially at the time of the "The Grand March," which was the center of the hall. The favors were jaunty white sailor caps for the men, and small white anchors, tied with red ribbon, for the girls. These were no doubt symbolic of the motto of the Idle Hour Campers, "The Anchor in the Storm." Following the march were his wife in the march were: John E. O'Donnell, and Miss Louise McKee; John J. PURCHASE OF ARCHBOLD LETTERS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Charles P. Mooney, editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal and formerly managing editor of the New York American, told the senate committee investigating campaign contributions about securing copies of some of the Standard Oil letters published by William H. Hearst.

Mr. Mooney testified he negotiated for copies of only a few of the Archbold letters; that they were brought to the American offices by a white man whose name he did not know and that he paid less than $500.

"I believe that with letters containing matter of this sort it was someone's duty to make them public. They showed that senators and representatives sworn to protect the public interest were committing treason against the people," Mr. Mooney told the committee.

He testified that when he became managing editor of the New York American in 1904 John Eddy, previously city editor, turned over to him a number of photographic copies of Standard Oil correspondence with public men. As to how those were obtained, Mr. Mooney could give no information. Later a man he could not name offered him more letters and wanted Mr. Mooney to buy them, assuring him he had come by them honestly. Mr. Mooney made some photographic copies.

"It was later assured by counsel," said Mr. Mooney, "that it would have been entirely proper for me to buy original letters containing matter of such a criminal character. I did not want them, however, and I did not care to have them remain in my possession or in the paper's possession."

Mr. Mooney denied the statement in an affidavit by Charles Stump presented to the committee last week that Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Mooney inspected letter books taken from the Standard Oil offices. He said he never saw any such books and that he never negotiated with Mr. Chamberlain for any letters. He added further that he never talked with Mr. Hearst about the correspondence and never bought any of the originals.

Mr. Mooney branded the statement that $24,000 was paid for copies of the Standard Oil letters as an absurdity when asked for his judgment as to the statement, that $4500 was paid. Mr. Mooney replied that from a news point of view the price would not have been excessive.

The committee took an indefinite recess.

Chancellor Supports Women's Suffrage

LONDON, Jan. 23.—"I hope we shall win on Monday," David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, today told a deputation of suffragettes representing the working women of the British Isles, whom he and Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, received at the treasury department.

"I certainly shall do my very best to see that the amendment to the franchise reform bill eliminating the word 'male' be passed by the house of commons. Since I have been in the cabinet I have become a more convinced supporter of women's suffrage than ever."

DON'T GROW BALD, YOUNG MAN!

Take Care of Your Hair While You Have Hair to Take Care of.

It's a safe bet to one bet that the young man who uses Parisian Sage, as an occasional hair dressing will never grow bald.

There's a reason, of course, and it's a very good and sufficient one. Dandruff germs cause falling hair and falling hair means thinner hair and in due time baldness.

Parisian Sage prevents baldness, by destroying the cause of baldness—the little persistent voracious dandruff germ.

If you have dandruff or itching scalp it means that dandruff germs are sapping the vitality from the roots of your hair. Get rid of all hair troubles by using Parisian Sage. It does not contain poisonous sugar of lead or any harmful ingredients. It is a scientific preparation that abolishes dandruff, stops falling hair and scalp itch, and makes hair grow lustrous and luxuriant.

Many young women as well as men are growing bald and from the same cause—the dandruff germ.

Use delightful, refreshing Parisian Sage; it nourishes the hair roots, if the roots are not dead, and brings to every user a head of glorious hair—radiant and fascinating. Large bottles for 50 cents at drug stores and toilet counters. See that you get Parisian Sage.

TRY TO SETTLE STRIKE

Arbitration Board Acts on B. & M. Trouble

BANGOR, Me., Jan. 23.—The resources of the state board of arbitration and conciliation were put to the test today in an effort to settle the strike of the engineers and firemen on the Bangor & Aroostook railroad. The board met at the direction of Governor Haines. The members realized the difficulty of their task as President Todd of the road still holds to his position, that the company could not if it would increase the wages of the men while the earnings of the road continue as they are.

The union officials were hopeful, however, that a compromise of mutual advantage could be reported. The passenger service was continued today and an attempt was made to move some freight.

The arbitrators, who are Fred Bogue of East Machias, Alden M. Plagier of Auburn and S. R. Haines of Pittsfield, met at the Penobscot exchange late in the forenoon and made their plans for the investigation. They will be occupied with the matter for probably several days.

Among the many conflicting rumors that could not be confirmed today was a report that the engine crews of the Maine Central railroad would refuse to haul Bangor & Aroostook freight that is being moved to the Maine Central line by trucks.

TWO BURNED TO DEATH

And Others Badly Injured at Fire

CANFIELD, O., Jan. 23.—Two people were burned to death, two were fatally burned and one suffered severe injuries in a farm house fire two miles from here early today. The dead are Curtis Shafter, 35, and his daughter Edie, 14. Mrs. Shafter, 31, and another daughter, Evelyn, 12, are believed fatally injured. A son, William, 10, was painfully hurt.

Discussion of Cotton Tariff

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Proposed reduction of the cotton tariff was again under fire today at the hearing of the house committee on ways and means.

There were a number of witnesses left over from yesterday's program and a short list of supplemental witnesses.

Southern and northern manufacturers do not agree on the extent to which the committee should go in cutting the cotton tariff. It has been indicated that the committee might drop the minimum ad valorem rate on cotton cloths ten per cent. five per cent. below the present Underwood schedule.

While the southern men are disposed to concede compromise reductions, the northern men are fighting for retention of the tariff at approximately the present figures.

Aviator Fell 240 Feet

RIEIMS, France, Jan. 23.—The well known French flying man, Charles Gaulard, was thrown to the ground from a height of 240 feet by the capsizing of his monoplane while making a flight today around the spires of the cathedral here. He was living when picked up although in a critical condition. He obtained his pilot's certificate in November, 1910.

Steamer Mae in Distress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The revenue cutters Androscoegin and Seminole steaming full speed to the distressed steamer Mae, which last night was sending out S. O. S. calls 130 miles out from Charleston, S. C., had not reported early today to headquarters. The Androscoegin caught the Mae's distress signals when she was cruising about 16 miles off Bodie Island, N. C., about 50 miles away. The Seminole went out from Charleston.

President Lowell Moves

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 23.—President Lowell of Harvard "moved house" today. From the old two story and a half house which has been the home of the head of the university for more than half a century, he transferred his household effects to the more palatial house erected by the university on Quincy street at a cost of $70,000.

THE MEN'S CLUB OF ST. ANNE'S CHURCH MET

Held Banquet at American House Last Night

REV. APPLETON GRANMIS, Rector of St. Anne's

The men of St. Anne's church held their first annual banquet at the New American House last evening. Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann, rector of Trinity church, Boston, was the guest of the evening. There were 131 members of the parish, present and the occasion was a most enjoyable one. The banquet was served from 6:30 to 8 o'clock. Following the banquet, the Men's Glee Club of the church, under the direction of Charles Brown, sang "Old Black Joe."

shipped at this picturesque and distinguished church, and have gone out into the world with the message of right living. In 1832 there were 15,000 persons in Lowell, most of them Protestants. Today it is doubtful if one-fourth of the population is Protestant. Today Lowell has over forty nationalities. Conditions in all walks of life have changed. The older families are scattered into many sections. The city is very largely made up of persons who are unfamiliar with the older Lowell, who have new hopes and desires. "What this church needs to do," he said, "is to bring itself into touch with the people. The church must not only be the centre of religious life but it must be the centre of the social life as well, and this is increasingly needed. It should have its doors open all of the time, not merely on Sundays and Wednesdays. I hope the time is not far distant when St. Anne's will have a splendidly equipped parish house where the social activities can be carried out. And we want a hall large enough to take care of the largest crowd. This would mean so much for the life of the church in this community. When the time comes I want all of you men to do your part in carrying out this undertaking. It is a source of great satisfaction to see such a large body of men in my congregation. We can rely upon the women to do much, but the men must take the lead in great projects are brought to consummation."

Trinity Church Rector

Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann, rector of Trinity church, Boston, was next called and said, in part: "I want to congratulate the rector of St. Anne's church. I understand that it has been many years since the men of this parish have turned out for such a banquet."

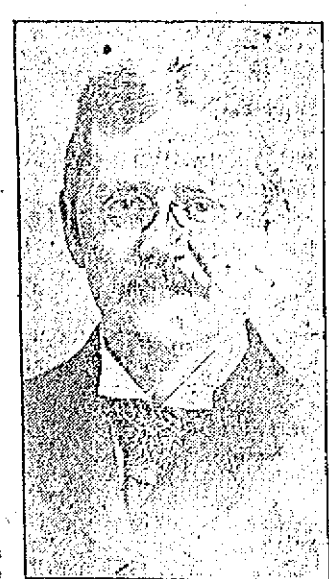

"I wish to congratulate you on your new rector. I knew your former rector, Dr. Chambliss, and loved him. I knew his character, his nature, his stainless integrity, his great devotion and sacrifice, and I knew him not only as a trusted rector but as a man who was one of the best of men."

Referring to the subject of his toast he said: "You have a very interesting problem in St. Anne's parish. You belong to a church which is coeval with the town of Lowell. In most of Massachusetts towns and cities the Protestant Episcopal church was a late comer, and we weren't greatly loved when we did come. We had to live down the unhappy reputation of being the Tory church. Even to this day a portion of Brattle street, Boston, is called Tory road."

"But in Lowell you have nothing of this to refer to, and if there is a church in this city which should hold the civic spirit and which has a responsibility and an inheritance, it is St. Anne's."

"I have listened to discussion of the great problem of immigration, about the coming here of the southern Europeans, but I wish to say one word about the Greeks of your city. They came here to earn a better living. Many of them had positions yet when they heard the call of their old country, they 'dropped all of their hopes here and go back to battle with the foe of centuries. They are men who dropped it all to go back by hundreds and to fight. And that's the sort of stuff this country can never have too much of. This is the kind of stuff we've got to have, too. Changes cannot be effected simply by law, although there must be law and order. We must have something of patience, something of the compassion of the big brother for the little brother, in fact a common patriotism and a common love for country. This is the love which will make a man disdain to take any advantage of a foreigner."

Men's Club President

F. Nathaniel Perkins, president of the Men's Club of Trinity church, said that the great duty of the men of the club is to assist the rector. He said that the clubs connected with the

Dual Conscience Abandoned

Rev. Samuel H. Jones, associate pastor of St. Anne's, responded to the toast, "The Church and Social Ethics." He said in part: "The obligation resting on this church and on the men in it is to build the man on the outside. A church in a community is reckoned in power on its ability to make a wholesome impression on the community as a whole. We used to have religion and secular activities in church. But we don't do it any more. And we don't believe in dual conscience, the conscience for Sunday and an entirely different one for the other days of the week. The church must speak in a terminology of the people. We want to bring ethics right down to life. We must do by business what business men in New York is doing, bringing the individual standards of right living into the standards of business life."

Rev. D. E. Atkinson

Rev. D. E. Atkinson spoke to the toast, "The Human Touch," and the last toast of the evening was "Our Country," responded to by John Jacob Rogers.

The Men's Glee Club sang "Silver Threads," the solo being carried by Alex. Williams, with either obligato by John Hanson.

The committee in charge of the banquet was as follows: Alex E. Williams, chairman; Edgar L. Fay, Charles N. Midwood, Charles B. Redway, Duncan Kelly, Harry Clifton, Cy. Russell, Charles W. Eaton, Charles E. Grover.

KEEP MILK COVERED

And it will be Free From "Taints"

Milk is so sensitive to taints and odors that even in this day of disinfectants and sanitation it takes watchful care to keep it from getting "a taste" of one disagreeable kind or another. Some of the taints come from the feed that the cow has had. Onions, turnips and cabbage, for instance, leave a trail as definite as that of the proverbial red herring, so often used by the tricky to obscure the issue. Sometimes milk is contaminated during the milking process by the stable odors.

Most of the tastes and taints that get into it, however, are attributed to exposure to some strong odor after the milking process is over. "Keeping the milk covered" is not new, thanks to the bottle and the refrigerator, the task that it used to be with the open crock and the spring house. But given a careless maid it is still hard enough. And milk will absorb any odor that is about in the refrigerator. Even if the odor is in itself pleasant, the taste of it translated into milk will not be pleasant. "What on earth is it?" one woman asked her cook after touching her lips to a glass of milk at luncheon. "It's strawberries." "You can't make me believe it. It's asafetida." But there were strawberries open in the kitchen, and there wasn't any asafetida. If the teabag is not kept sweet and clean and well ventilated its own odor will get into milk that is allowed to stand with the bottle cover off. And to get cook and kitchen maid so trained that they will not leave that cover off is a task of no mean proportions.

Cup Cake

Put together one cupful of butter and two cupfuls of sugar. Add four eggs, beating in one at a time. Beat for five minutes. Stir together three cupfuls of flour and a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Add to the mixture with 20 drops of extract of bitter almonds. Mix into a smooth medium batter. Bake well in greased cups or muffin rings in a rather hot oven for about 20 minutes.

IN MAGNIFICENT EFFECT The vogue for magpie effects has invaded the realm of the tea gown. The charming model pictured is in black and white silk chiffon. For second mourning this exquisite gown is very appropriate.

SIZING UP A FRIEND

Dope on How to Judge Acquaintances

When trying to sum up a new acquaintance do not look at the face alone, but particularly notice the head and ears, as these are far more trustworthy guides than the features can ever be. Illness or accident may spoil a face which was intended to be beautiful and so lead you into forming a harsh, incorrect judgment. But nothing can alter the shape of the head, by which the character is revealed. A low, back sloping forehead is often a sign of stupidity or shallowness. A person with a forehead like this has seldom very much mental power. He may seem bright at first, but when you come to know him you will find that he is also shallow.

A high, wide forehead is generally a sign of very good brains. But a high forehead which is pressed in at the temples as if it had been squeezed between the hands is not a good sign. People with foreheads like this are sometimes clever, but generally untrustworthy and often cruel.

A very large, bulging forehead is not a good folk's thing, a sign of tremendous intellect. It more often shows that the owner when a child was threatened with water on the brain. It is frequently to be seen in rather slow people, who sometimes have cunning enough to hide their dullness under a cloak of silence and so pose as being very "deep."

A very heavy back to the head shows strong passions and sometimes a tendency to coarseness. Men with heads like this are domineering and commanding, but they do not have any fine feelings.

A head which goes straight up from the back of the neck without any bulge at all often shows a cold, selfish, critical disposition. Women with heads like this are apt to be "snooty" and are limited, conventional and self-seeking.

A head with a wide or lumpy top shows kindness and benevolence. Men with this shaped head may not be specially brilliant, but they are kind and devoted husbands and fathers.

Large, coarse ears, with thick lobes to them, show a lack of refinement and sympathy. Ears which have very large bald patches at the back of them, quite a considerable gap between the ear and the hair—often denote cruelty. They are frequently to be seen on criminals and prizefighters.

Small ears, set flat on to the head and placed fairly high up, are a good sign. They show refinement and a natural delicacy and sympathy.

Some people say that a deeply cleft chin shows a contented mind, and others hold that it indicates a very affectionate disposition. A square, heavy jaw shows strength of will or obstinacy. A receding chin shows lack of will and self-indulgent disposition. A very sharply pointed chin is more often than not a sign of weakness and fretfulness.

Eyes which are set very close together are generally supposed to show shyness. When they appear with a high, narrow forehead they are a most dangerous sign.

Eyes which are set very wide apart give an innocent, confiding look to the face, and when they appear beneath a well shaped forehead they generally indicate sweetness of disposition. But below a bad shaped forehead they may show silliness and a certain lack of "grip," which will make the owner incapable of handling life's difficulties in a sensible, practical way.

The size of the head does not matter much, provided that it is well shaped. If the shape is really good you will not take any particular notice of it—you will merely feel sure that it is all right.

To Remove Paint

It frequently happens that painters splash the glass windows when they are painting the sills. When this is the case melt some soda in very hot water and wash the glass with it.

Shampooing This Way Is Genuine Pleasure

"The time has passed when women give over half a day to a messy, unsatisfactory shampoo," writes Mrs. Mae Mary, authority on beauty, and now instead of going to the hairdresser, she performs this toilet function in her own home, taking but a few minutes and obtaining far more satisfactory results.

"A teaspoonful of cantharox dissolved in a cup of hot water makes sufficient mixture for a delightfully soothing and cleansing shampoo. This makes a rich, white lather that dissolves all dust and dandruff, neutralizes excess oil and cleanses every strand of hair. Rinsing leaves hair and scalp immaculately clean and promotes a healthy condition in both. With cantharox shampoos a luxuriant growth of glossy hair, richly beautiful in its natural tint, is certain to be the legacy of every woman."

POLICE SERGT. CLAIMS JEALOUSY

Trouble in Boston May Result in Wholesale Transfer of Sergrts. and Patrolmen

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—A wholesale transfer of the night sergeants and the patrolmen of the East Dedham street station may be made by Police Commissioner Stephen O'Meara as the result of long standing jealousy in that division, which has been brought to a head by the complaint to headquarters of Sergeant Jeremiah J. Riordan that he is not getting a square deal on the division.

Hearing Expected

A hearing is expected to be called this week by the commissioner, at which the difficulties among the officers will be thoroughly thrashed out, and as a result it is expected those who are responsible for it will be sent to other districts.

Division 5, known as one of the toughest districts in the police department, was thoroughly stirred by the developments of yesterday, which terminated with the visit of Sergeant Riordan to Pemberton square.

Many of those who claim to know the inside of the affair declare it is nothing but petty jealousy. This sort of thing has been going on for many months according to some of the men, and in the investigation which is expected it is said that a vice squad combination, in which the complainant was not included, will be shown.

Riordan, who is one of the night sergeants, in laying his case before Superintendent William H. Pierce at headquarters yesterday, maintained that he has not been receiving a square deal in the running down of questionable resorts in the division.

Scorned Sergeants

He declares that Sergeants Charles B. McCleskey and John E. Hughes have been skimming the cream of the work, leaving him as much on the outside of the "honor" parts as they would a citizen.

Riordan is a new sergeant, having been promoted last summer and sent to division five from the Lagrange street station and the frequency with which the names of the other two night sergeants have appeared upon warrants for raids upon questionable resorts in the district is the chief basis for his complaint.

Sergeant Riordan maintains that while he has been attached to the division he has been forced to work absolutely single-handed in running down evidence against the obnoxious places while he alleges the other two sergeants have had the assistance of the night and day patrolmen and several special officers who have been about the district securing evidence which he claims in every case has been turned over to them.

Immediate Remedy

As the immediate remedy orders have been sent to Captain John Driscoll that from now on the names of all the night sergeants will be placed on applications for warrants.

The men on the district have taken sides with the officers at odds, and although Sergeant Riordan has a goodly following among the patrolmen, it is said that his supporters are patrolmen whose beats have either already been cleaned up or men on beats where there is no cleaning up to be done.

Captain Driscoll denies all knowledge of the alleged friction and will not take part in the affair.

At headquarters there is nothing to indicate that the superior officers of the district have been mixed up in the affair in any way whatever.

Yesterday, after telling Superintendent Pierce of his troubles on the division, Sergeant Riordan was assured that the matter would be taken up with the police commissioner at once.

TRY WOMAN AS BURGLAR

Alleged That She Helped Steal Auto Tires

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—Mary Welsh, alias Minnie L. Charter, was placed on trial yesterday in the superior criminal court in East Cambridge, charged with breaking and entering and larceny of two automobile tires from the garage of A. A. Frost, tall after the night of Nov. 6, 1912. She is the first woman to be tried for burglary in the East Cambridge courts.

The woman was arrested with John Gaskill, alias John Richards, says she was to have married the man, whom she knew as Dr. James Stillman. Her woman's story is that she met Gaskill three years ago under the name of Dr. James Stillman and believed that to be his name until five or six weeks after the first episode. She says Gaskill had treated her grandmother during an illness. They came to live at a lodging house on Hanson street, in the South End district of Boston, and were to have been married on Christmas Day.

On the night of the burglary they had been to the home of her mother and on the way back in Gaskill's machine they stopped at the garage for gasoline. They had gone but a short distance when one of the tires burst. Gaskill went back to the garage and on his return he informed her he had purchased two tires, but that they were too heavy he had left them on the road. They returned, she said, and picked them up.

The case brings to mind the sensational arrest of Gaskill and the woman after a fight on Washington street the latter part of last November. Gaskill at that time pulling a revolver. They had been followed by store detectives and accused of robbery. Subsequent developments showed that Gaskill, who had served a term in the Charles street jail and escaped from that institution in 1906 and for which four officers were dismissed, had gained the confidence of the woman under an assumed name and that he was plundering houses and garages while she believed he was a physician.

GARFIELD POST, G. A. R.

Held Important Meeting—Other Fraternities

Last night the regular meeting of James A. Garfield post was held in the hall of the organization in Merrimack street and was well attended. The gathering was presided over by Commander Thomas O. Hagan. The report of Adjutant P. E. Butler was accepted as read, as was also that of Quartermaster E. B. Fife, according to which the finances are in excellent condition. The reports of the sick committee and other committees were also heard and accepted.

At this meeting among the principal business was the election of an executive committee for the ensuing year, and the following were chosen: Senior vice commander, C. H. Flanders; Junior vice commander, Agnes C. Stockwell; E. R. Fife, C. H. Stokney and A. J. Boies. During the evening there were several addresses on the good of the organization by the members.

Echo Lodge, N. E. O. P.

The regular business session of Echo lodge, No. 44, N. E. O. P., was held last night and the newly elected officers were installed, the ceremony being performed by Deputy Grand Warden Harvey Brown and suite of Lawrence. The officers were: Junior past warden, Katherine L. Curtin; warden, John Merriam; secretary, Agnes C. Stockwell; financial secretary, Margaret B. McLaren; treasurer, Richard A. Curtin; chaplain, Anna G. Norris; vice warden, Mary S. Curtin; sentinel, Guy Campus; guardian, Brother Ramsdell; guide, Thomas Frost; trustee for three years, Edward McLaren.

During the meeting remarks were made by several of the officers and members, and afterwards refreshments were served and games were played.

of Malta met in regular session last night in the Odd Fellows building and initiated a number of candidates into the mysteries of the order. At the next gathering the second degree will be worked.

Considerable routine business was transacted at last night's meeting and reports show the organization to be in flourishing condition in every way.

Ladd and Whitney Circle

Ladd and Whitney circle, No. 8, Ladies of the G. A. R., met last night in Post 155 hall. President Mary L. Hamblett was in the chair. There was a large attendance and the usual routine business was transacted. On Feb. 12 the department president, Mrs. Emma F. Thurlow, of Newburyport, will pay the post circle a visit. Sister Bryant will have charge of the supper, which will be served at 6 p. m. The meeting will be called at 7:15 p. m. and will close at 9 p. m.

Lowell Lodge, A. O. U. W.

Lowell lodge, 22, Ancient Order of United Workmen, will hold its regular meeting in Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street, tonight at 8 o'clock. Deputy Grand Master Workman John J. Hart and suite from Pacific lodge of Lawrence will be in attendance and will install the newly elected officers for the present year. At the close of the installation exercises a collation will be served in the banquet hall to the members present. Every member should attend this meeting as matters of vital importance will be discussed relative to the coming grand lodge session which will be held in the near future.

B. F. Butler Women's Relief Corps

The regular meeting of B. F. Butler Women's Relief Corps, No. 75, was held at Memorial hall. The meeting was called at 8 o'clock with the president, Miss Emma J. Ober, in the chair. The attendance was large and a great deal of business was accomplished. Committees were appointed for the ensuing year. It was voted to give a turkey supper on their anniversary.

THE I. W. W. DOCTRINE

Defined by Giovannitti in New York

At a meeting of Intercollegiate Socialists in New York, the other night, Joseph Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti were among the speakers. As a sheriff and 15 deputies were on the stage Mr. Ettor was very mild in his remarks but it seemed that Giovannitti courted arrest in the radical character of his speech which, however, only expressed the policy and teachings of the I. W. W.

Dealing with the subject of "sabotage," Giovannitti said: "When you're out on strike put the boss' property on the bum so that the man who takes your place can't use it." "I have written a speech," said Giovannitti, "but it is so long I will not be able to deliver it. However, lest the sheriff thinks there is something in it that he would disapprove of, I hereby make him a present of it."

The speech was formally handed to the sheriff. Giovannitti argued that when a strike left his machine behind him in perfect order, when he went out on strike, he left behind him exactly half of his chance of winning the strike. Therefore, he was perfectly justified in loosening a screw or bolt, or performing "some delicate operation" which would incapacitate that machine as soon as the strikebreaker attempted to use it.

"This is merely answering a kick in the shins by a punch in the jaw," he declared. "And I advocate that policy, sheriff or no sheriff!"

That speech of Giovannitti indicated one of the most dangerous doctrines ever preached in this country. It is revolutionary and little short of anarchy.

Ettor, Giovannitti and other I. W. W. leaders have been in New York for some time conducting the Garment Workers' strike.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Tendered Mrs. Mamie Sullivan by Her Many Friends at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Moir, Tuesday

A delightful miscellaneous shower was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. John S. Moir, 342 Mammoth road, for Mrs. Mamie Sullivan, at which about 50 of the lady friends of Mrs. Sullivan assembled. Most of the guests are employed at the Bon Marche, where Mrs. Sullivan has been a valued employee for 18 years, and they fairly showered the coming bride with a variety of gifts. A luncheon was served at the close of the evening's entertainment. The guests of the evening were entertained by piano solos by Mrs. Smith, songs by Miss C. Pettier, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Mamie Doherty, Miss Delle and Miss Agnes O'Neil, and a recitation by Miss Mollie McLaughlin. Luncheon was served along towards midnight by Mrs. Catherine Everett.

TWO OVERCOATS STOLEN

Thieves Busy at Winthrop High School

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—A long series of small thefts from the cloak rooms of the Winthrop high school, culminating in the disappearance of two boys' overcoats, have aroused the parents of the school and police authorities.

Yesterday a new overcoat, worth $22, worn for the first time that day by Paul Bertelson of 111 Court road, disappeared from the cloak room of the school. This loss was discovered at the noon recess. A few hours later William Whall, Jr., of 57 Atlantic avenue, discovered that his coat, bought at Christmas and valued at $28, had disappeared.

It is claimed by parents that during the last few years no article left in the cloak room has been safe. One girl reported losing $3 during the last two years, in small sums. Hats, gloves, caps and handkerchiefs have been reported lost. A silver cigarette case, left in a coat pocket in the assembly room, disappeared Jan. 6.

Some weeks ago Headmaster E. D. Osborne, called all the boys and girls together and asked them to familiarize themselves with each other's overcoats and belongings, so that if any one of them was stolen and worn by some one other than the owner, they might be recognized.

Mr. Osborne declared last night that he had reported the cases to the police, but had taken no unusual precaution to prevent any repetition of the thefts.

THE MILITANT SUFFRAGET

The cause of woman suffrage has made great progress in the United States during the past few months. You had not heard about it? That is quite likely, because the ballot has been given to women only in certain western and middle west states. But in England, where there has been a long and arduous struggle, the cause has made virtually no progress at all.

Some hundreds of thousands of women are now entitled to vote in the United States, and for the first time in the history of the country, women took an important part in the recent presidential campaign. They were seen in the streets, and in the States where they were not permitted to vote their presence in the campaign was due to an invitation from the party leaders, a virtual recognition of the fact that eventually, as matters shall progress politically, they will in fact as well as deed become a part of the body politic.

It has been the fashion of recent years for the English suffragettes to come over here to tell our women about their rights, and to urge them to demand the ballot from the men. It would be better were these visitors to devote their time to a study of the more pacific methods adopted by their sisters in this country, and consider how much better are the results already obtained. At the present time every member of the British cabinet is guarded by detectives wherever he goes, so great is the fear of personal violence at the hands of the women. When the premier left the house of commons one day this week two automobiles filled with plain clothes men followed him, because of an expected attempt to take his life. When the vote on Sir Edward Grey's amendment to the franchise registration is taken tomorrow, extraordinary police precautions will be required to preserve public order.

What is being gained by it all? Nothing at all, and much is being lost. The militant suffraget is losing the respect that all women should be able to claim from men. She is losing the confidence of other women who believe in her cause but not in her methods. There is a lesson in it all that should not be lost upon the women of our own country.

PROTEST AGAINST CLEAN MONEY

A few years ago there was a moral-wave protest against accepting tainted money, and in several instances contributions were returned when offered by gentlemen who had made their millions more rapidly than seemed legitimate through the regular channels of business. But at the present time the treasury department at Washington is considering—not too seriously, perhaps—a protest against clean money.

Recently money washing machines were introduced in the bureau of engraving and in the sub-treasuries of the country, and were found to work most satisfactorily. By cleaning soiled bills it is possible to prolong their life, so that the government is not now required to manufacture as much new money as it did formerly. A saving of hundreds of thousands yearly will result.

But the plate printers are opposed for this reason, fearing that the big force of help will be reduced. They have issued a circular of protest, in which, however, they evade the real point at issue and argue that a washed bill looks like a counterfeit and will be dangerous for the public to handle. They also claim that "there is no popular demand for washed money, and that money estimates have been juggled in the interest of soap-suds currency."

If there has been no popular demand for washed money it is because the average man has trouble enough in overhauling a considerable number of bills of any sort, and is willing to accept them whether they are new or old, clean or otherwise; and incidentally, he is satisfied to leave such questions entirely to the government experts. Generally speaking, it is very desirable to have paper currency cleansed occasionally of not only dirt, but such germs as may have been left upon it. Whether this is done by a washing machine or soap and a scrub brush matters very little provided the money does not depreciate in value.

COMMITTED TO ARBITRATION

Senator Root makes a rather strong case against the United States on the Panama canal question, though it is perhaps to be regretted that the discussion should not have been held in "committee of the whole." The frankness with which international questions are sometimes discussed in the house and senate is not always understood in Europe, and the prestige of the United States suffers in consequence. Mr. Root is chiefly right in his contention that the United States, having preached arbitration for years, and having besought other nations in season and out of season to enter into arbitration agreements, cannot now refuse to arbitrate this question. "That is just the situation. Quite apart from the merits of the canal question, is the larger issue involving the principle of arbitration. To the latter we are, as a nation, completely committed."

No Lowell "yet" is better entitled to the position of president of the New England Veteran Firemen's league than is James H. Walker. And let us see, is it not customary to have at least one master in the home city of the president?

The plan to send the naval militia through the Panama canal with the fleet that makes the first trip will be hailed with joy by the web-foot soldiers, and there will be a rush down the Cape and elsewhere to join the ranks in anticipation.

St. Columba's parish may not be old enough to have an alumni, but its annual reunions are well enough attended by enthusiastic members to suggest an old and long established church.

Vermont has abolished hanging in favor of electrocution. But has it been necessary to hang anybody in that good old state in recent years?

New York Tribune: "Gov. Blaine went to South Carolina's militia take part in the inauguration." Perhaps the governor knows that militia.

The man who stole 1600 feet of electric light wire at Willow Dale must have done his work in the dark.

Here, you Maine chaps, stop holding up the potato supply!

The government at Constantinople is still firing questions.

Seen and Heard

The reporter was a "jolly, heralded athlete and stood six feet two in his stocking feet. The clock was about fourteen from the door and to the tall athlete reporter, the editor said: "Can you reach up and wind that clock?" "If I could I would be travelling with a circus," said the elongated one.

Robert Henri, the noted artist, said at a luncheon in New York: "It isn't wise for a painter to be too frank in his criticism. I know a very outspoken painter whose little daughter called at a friend's house and said: 'Show me your parlor rug, won't you, please?' 'So, with great pride, the hostess led the little girl into the drawing room and said all the kinds of things that the little girl was a beauty, while the little girl stood in the doorway upon the gorgeous colors of an expensive Kilmanshank rug. The little girl stared down at the rug in silence. The young man, away, she said in a rather disappointed voice: 'It doesn't make me sick!'"

A young man and his wife, accompanied by their two children, a boy and a girl, entered a street car and sat down on one of the side seats. The little girl was a beauty, while the little man, with his curly hair, freckles, and freckled skin, was quite the opposite.

Directly across the aisle sat two ladies, evidently a mother and daughter. The younger of the two, looking critically at the children, then she scrutinized the parents. Then she turned to the elder lady, smiled and made a most important remark. The young man, who had been watching her leaved forward.

"Madam," he said, "you are quite right. The girl fortunately looks like her mother and the boy looks like me." That he had guessed accurately what was passing in her mind her look of confusion left no doubt.

Just what constitutes news is a much mooted question, to the general public especially. The average newspaper reader considers that anything that pertains to him personally is the most important piece of news that a paper can print. A negro porter in one of the popular Kansas City clubs recently divorced, furnishes an example of the concept of news.

Approaching a reporter in the club rooms a few days ago the porter remarked: "Say, boss, don't you all know I done got a divorce and I ain't seen a single line about it in the paper yet, an' it been mos' two weeks."

"Well, Rastus, that's strange," the reporter replied, trying to look serious.

"Can't you all put it in the paper now?" he asked. "Tain't as how I can't get the divorce that I cares to let people know about, but don't you know, boss, that I meets a lot of cut-lad ladies every day that jes' won't speak to me, 'cause they think I'm married."

When thoughtfulness for the comfort of animals as well as of men is shown by a person, this attractive quality takes on added lustre. If one will notice it is only the unusually kind-hearted man who reserves a part of his considerate attention for the needs of our dumb friends. Such a type happened to be passing along Merrimack street near the Union bank a week ago Monday, on a morning that was blindingly cold. He was a brisk little man of stoutish figure and he looked, as he pulled away at his pipe, to be one who has found the world a good place to be in and the right place to do good in. And, from the expression which some fifty years had worn into his face, I judged him to be one of those really wise persons who has passed along he noticed a black dog more good to him who performs it than even to the one for whom it is done. As this round little man was passing along he noticed a black dog lying in the gutter at the feet of a horse. It probably had been blown from the animal's back. The wind was sweeping along the street like

"sixty" and, as the horse had long since passed her shivering sides with biting strength. Pausing at his way, the gentleman stepped into the street and picked up the black dog, placed it carefully over the horse's back. Then, putting away at his pipe, he resumed his way, with possibly, scarcely a thought about the thoughtless which he had done. As I watched him trudging along about his business I sized him up as one of those men to whom kindness, by its constant practice, had become second nature. Now and then such delightful characters cross our paths and when we are fortunate enough to become acquainted with them their camaraderie casts an elevating and happy influence over us.

To use an old expression they "are the salt of the earth" and whether rich or poor, learned or unlearned, they are to be numbered among those who make this grasping, self-thinking old world of ours a fairly enjoyable place to live in. Yes, in the exact true sense of the word, these men may well be called "gentlemen."

THE HOME HILLS

Over the hills a white road calls,
Luring the feet away;
Luring through night and day,
Hearts in the vale its call obey,
But who the hills who never stray—
The old home hills are best!

Regions there are with summer queen,
Crowned with a bloom of green,
And mountain blue and blue;
There come the pilgrims from far and near,
Seeking the land gods blessed,
But homeward again their gray barks steer—
The old home hills are best!

Ever the paths await the feet
For scenes unknown,
Far and faint are their windings feet,
Running from zone to zone;
But woe they have failed and weary grown
Backward they turn to rest
Where hearts find peace and love, its
The old home hills are best!

COMMUNITY COUNCIL

To be Formed by Lowell and Surrounding Towns' Boards of Trade—Meeting for Purpose Monday Night

The Lowell board of trade is planning the organization of a "Community Council," which will be formed with delegates from the surrounding towns, and accordingly invitations have been sent to the following towns to send delegates to a meeting which will be held Monday night at the board of trade's rooms in Central street, Dracut, Tewksbury, Chelmsford, Billerica, Tyngsboro, Westford and Dunstable.

Supper will be served at 6 o'clock and then the plans will be talked over an organization perfected. Three delegates are invited from each town and the organization will be launched by these men. The purpose of this organization is to discuss road problems and policy; express and in fact better conditions in every way.

INJECTION OF $500,000,000 GERMS

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Col. W. B. Bannister of the medical corps, U. S. A., during a discussion last night by the Chicago Medical society on serum treatment and prevention of typhoid fever said that 50,000,000 typhoid germs in a serum injection is an infinitesimal dose.

"In the army we would consider 50,000,000 infinitesimal," he said. "When we vaccinate a man against typhoid we give him an injection of 500,000,000 typhoid germs the very first time."

WERE TENDERED ANNUAL BANQUET

Members of St. Jean Baptiste and St. Joseph Choirs Meet

St. Joseph's college hall in Merrimack street was last night the scene of a very pretty gathering, the occasion being the annual banquet to the members of St. Jean Baptiste and St. Joseph church choirs. The affair was largely attended and those present spent a very enjoyable evening. There was a brief reception, followed by a game of whist in the lower hall and later a repeat in the main hall. Dr. George E. Caisse, choristmaster, at St. Jean Baptiste church, was chosen toastmaster.

At 7:30 o'clock the guests arrived and were directed to the lower hall, where a cordial welcome was extended them by Rev. Joseph M. Blais, O. M. I., treasurer of the parish. A brief reception was held and at 8 o'clock all those present started a spirited whist contest for which several prizes were at stake. The whist proved very enjoyable, and when the caterer announced the end of the contest, in the upper hall, the assembly ascended the stairs and seated themselves around the festive board.

The menu consisted of hot roast turkey and fixings and several side dishes and was one of the best ever given at this annual banquet. The affair was leisurely discussed and after the ice cream had been served, Dr. George Caisse stepped to the front and made a few remarks. He spoke of the event and said it was given annually by the Oblate Fathers as a token of appreciation to the members of both church choirs for their splendid work during the year. The doctor inserted a little humor in his remarks and spoke at length on the burning of St. Jean Baptiste church, assuring the Fathers that as soon as the new church is rebuilt the members of his choir will be on hand to resume the musical programs. He then complimented the large attendance and, in their behalf thanked the Fathers of the parish who made the event possible.

The next speaker was Rev. Joseph M. Blais, O. M. I., treasurer of the parish, who in a few words complimented the singers for their splendid music during the past year and also presented Fr. Watelle's compliments and best wishes, the latter not being present, as he was in New Bedford on business. His remarks were well received and were followed by a few witty sayings by Rev. Charles Paquette, O. M. I., who, in a very humorous mood, directed several jokes at the musicians, as he called them, especially the members of his choir at St. Joseph's church, the director, Mr. Frank Gourdau, coming in for his share. Rev. Jerome Dis, O. M. I., and Mr. Gourdau also spoke and were very interesting.

At the conclusion of the speeches a varied musical program was rendered by several members of the choirs, including Miss Anna E. Bouassa, Mr. Frank Gourdau, Miss Eva Lusner, Dr. George E. Caisse, Telephore Maio, Wolfred P. Caisse, Jr., Ernest Dupont, George Labranche and others, while Mr. Guitabail, organist at St. Jean Baptiste church, rendered several fine piano selections.

The affair closed with the singing of "O Canada" by both choirs, Dr. Caisse directing. The whist prizes were then awarded and a rising vote of thanks was extended the Oblate Fathers. Edmond Berger of 187 Alken street entered.

250 WAITERS "FIRED"

Hotel Clerks Were Planning to Strike

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Waiters agitating a strike found their plans anticipated at one of the large Broadway hotels, early today when the hotel Knickerbocker management discharged 250 of the 250 waiters and bell boys in its employ. When the protest, James H. Ryan, called all of the men into the main dining room they believed he was to announce the concession of their demands but instead James declared that he had been harassed beyond all endurance by their dissatisfaction and reiterated demands. Captains and all were forced to walk out.

MATRIMONIAL

Lyman H. Twiss of Lynnfield and Miss Katherine H. Breen, daughter of Denis J. Breen, of 758 Moody street were united in marriage at nine o'clock yesterday morning at St. John's church, Peabody, by Rev. Father Murphy. The bridegroom was attended by Joseph A. Donovan of Lynnfield and the bridemaid was Miss Nellie Gratton of this city.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Pierce. Mr. Twiss is a prominent resident of Lynnfield where he is in full charge of the both works for the state and in addition, he is free warden of the town. The bride is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and is well known in Lowell, where she has resided until the past year during which she was employed in Lynnfield.

After a two weeks' visit to New York city, Jersey City and Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Twiss will reside in Lynnfield.

Girls' Rainy Day Costume

Small girls who insist upon trotting off to school in rainy weather may be protected and comfortably equipped with the aid of one of the new "rainy day" sets. The outfit consists of an almost square bag of morocco holding a "Red Riding" cape of waterproofed silk and an attached hood which may be drawn over a small sized hat to protect its ribbon trimmings. The bag, which is of morocco precisely matching the navy, brown, ceru or dark red silk cloak, is provided with long straps which fit over the shoulders so that when the cloak is worn its receptacle may be used to protect the school-books from dampness.

120,000 TO BE EVICTED

By the Sale of Property in Paris

PARIS, Jan. 23.—The formidable problem of finding accommodation for 120,000 people who are to be evicted from their dwellings owing to the sale of the antiquated fortifications of Paris to the city authorities by the government is now before the municipal council of the French capital for solution.

The space occupied by the wall, 21 miles in length, and the firing zone, 500 yards in width facing it, are to be converted into public parks. This space is now covered by many thousands of ramshackle houses, occupied in most cases by the poorest class of work people and rag men, but in many instances turned into resorts for criminals and tramps. The proprietors may a small annual sum for the privilege of being allowed to construct these huts on the condition that they are subject to destruction in case of war. There is not sufficient accommodation for the occupiers in other parts of the city.

The amount of money expended on these old fortifications erected in 1840 and now to be razed is estimated to have exceeded $200,000. It is impossible to enter the city without passing through one of the 70 gates now used as stations for the collection of the tax imposed on provisions coming into Paris from the country districts.

ANOTHER LOWELL MAN HONORED

Gov. Foss Appoints Peter H. Savage to State Board of Embalming

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—Governor Foss yesterday nominated Peter H. Savage of Lowell to be a member of the state board of embalming. The council confirmed the nomination of Dr. T. B. Savage of Lowell to be associate medical examiner for the 6th Middlesex district.

The House

In the house yesterday the following committee reports were received:

Cities, leave to withdraw on Mayor Fitzgerald's petition that the city of Boston be permitted to subsidize the Boston Opera House. Rep. Caro of Chelsea dissents.

Cities, on petition of Mayor Fitzgerald, a bill to require the lighting of ways of egress in all places of public assembly to which an admission fee is charged.

Public service, leave to withdraw on the petition of the state branch of the American Federation of Labor for an extension of the law providing for the retirement of employees of the commonwealth.

Judiciary, leave to withdraw on a petition that the attorney general be directed to investigate the matter of illegal monopolies controlling the price of milk, eggs, butter and other articles.

Ways and means, a bill appropriating $50,000 for the expenses of the industrial accident board. Given its several readings under suspension of the rules. Rep. Frederick W. Hurlburt of Worcester, who because of illness, has been unable to attend any previous session of the house, was escorted by Rep. Washburn of Worcester to the governor's office, where he took the oath of office.

The Senate

In the senate, these reports of committees were read:

Judiciary—Reference to next general court on Mayor John F. Fitzgerald's bill that charges for water be levied upon estates.

Public service—A resolve to pay Charles F. Pidgeon, for 24 years of the bureau of statistics of labor, $500 a year in monthly installments. The petitioner asked for an annuity of $1000 a year.

Bank Examiner Thorndike reported that he had examined the securities, investments and cash in the treasury of the commonwealth on Jan. 1, 1913, and found that there was a total of $55,141,574.48 invested in securities and held in cash; that cash was $9181.31; the bank balances, $4,122,732.49; the fund securities and trust deposit securities amounted to $31,000,550.68; in bonds, $46,890,240 in notes, $3,911,910.63 in trust deposit securities, $4,417,500 due from national banks and trust companies, $1,122,732.49 in various items, $9181.31.

The state auditor's statements showed cash in funds to be $2,515,754.16, cash revenue, $1,541,59.64. The examiner finds the amounts to agree with the statement by the treasurer.

Senator Stearns of Cambridge moved postponement of the bill introduced by Senator Brennan of Charlestown to amend the act of last year relative to the pay of firemen in Cambridge by the commissioner of public safety, to Friday. Senator Brennan opposed postponement and asked the reason. Senator Coolidge said it was to oblige the commissioner of public safety, who desired to look into the matter. Postponement prevailed on a voice vote.

Federal Relations

Rep. Sanborn of Lawrence appeared before the committee on federal relations yesterday in favor of the petition of C. W. Walworth and others for the passage of a resolution requesting congress to propose an amendment of the federal constitution authorizing congress to regulate hours of labor.

Rep. Schlapp of Lawrence was also recorded in favor of the resolutions and the matter was put over for a week.

City Solicitor Harry W. James of Chelsea appeared in favor of the petition of Maurice Caro for the adoption of a resolution requesting congress to pass legislation providing for the sale of the land in the city of Chelsea formerly used as a powder magazine and containing about seven and one-half acres.

Mr. James said that Chelsea is very much handicapped in the fact that out of more than $23,000,000 of taxable property, $2,000,000 is exempt.

Ways and Means

The committee on ways and means gave a hearing on estimates of amounts required for the fiscal year for five of the state charitable institutions.

Superintendent Frost of the Boston State Hospital explained why the institution will need approximately $100,000 more this year than it did last year. Last year there was appropriated for the maintenance of the institution $105,000, and this year the institution asks for $104,500. The increase is made necessary by reason of the fact that the hospital has recently established a psychopathic department in connection with its other work. The population of the hospital has increased from 757 in 1912 to 1185 at the present date.

Superintendent Klein of the Danvers State Hospital asks for an appropriation of $355,000 for the fiscal year, which is just $100 more than was appropriated last year. The estimates show an increase in salaries and wages amounting to $5000 and a decrease in clothing and material of the same amount.

The trustees of the Foxboro State hospital ask for an appropriation of $103,500 as compared with $101,500, which was appropriated last year. The largest item of increase is salaries.

The Gardner state county trustees want $10,000 more this year than they received last year. They ask specifically for $143,500. Salaries, wages, labor and food represent the largest items of increase.

The trustees of the Lakeville state sanatorium ask for an appropriation of $37,500, or $1300 more than was allotted last year. As in the previous cases, the largest item of increase is represented by salaries, wages and labor.

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from some form of feminine disorder is told that an operation is necessary, it of course frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital operating table and the surgeon's knife strikes terror to her heart, and no wonder. It is quite true that some of these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but thousands of women have avoided the necessity of an operation by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This fact is attested by the grateful letters they write to us after their health has been restored.

These Two Women Prove Our Claim.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost anything."

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman submit to a surgical operation without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

All these testimonials are guaranteed genuine and truthful. The original of each came to us entirely unsolicited. They are sincere expressions of gratitude for actual benefits received from the medicine.

PRISON SYSTEM IN MASS.

mission of an amendment to make women eligible for appointment as notaries public.

Rep. George T. Daly appeared in favor of his resolve for the abolition of the governor's council and the transfer of its duties to the general court. He said he thought matters of pardon, etc., would be much better handled by the general court than they are by the council.

James A. Sanborn of Boston opposed the bill on the ground that the duties of the council are very different from those of the legislature, and the legislative and executive branches should be kept distinct and separate, as intended by the constitution. The hearing was closed.

Henry Sterling appeared for his resolve to provide that all judges shall be elected by the people and for not more than five-year terms.

BATTLE IN COURTHOUSE

Man in Hospital With Cuts
—Another Arrested—

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—With the arrest of John Sheridan of 1339 Vernon street, Roxbury, and the presence in the relief hospital of his fellow worker, Michael E. Cresson, 1055 Bennington street, East Boston, it is revealed that a fight with knife, fists and tumps of coal occurred during yesterday's early morning hours in the boiler room of the Pemberton square court house, under the very dome of justice.

They were fellow firemen at the court house, able-bodied men to whom hard work and harder knocks are of passing consequence. Rumor of other quarrels in the court house boiler room have come to the ears of the officials, but none complained and neither of the men made complaint in the present instance.

At an early hour yesterday Cresson was found staggering toward the Relief hospital, Haymarket square, with blood pouring from a knife wound in the left shoulder blade and a more serious cut over the kidneys, which in itself had nearly ended life.

He walked until he fell and, when assisted into the relief station, grimly explained that he had slipped and fallen twice upon an ice pick on the sidewalk, an explanation which the surgeons agreed was impossible of belief.

Sheridan was located and taken to police headquarters. He faced the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, with an explanation of his own but at variance with the ice pick theory.

GOVERNOR FOSS WANTS

Reorganization

SEEKS SERVICES OF NEW YORK SUPERINTENDENT

Colonel Joseph F. Scott on Way to Confer With Governor—Formerly Bay State Official

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—Governor Foss is endeavoring to secure the services of Colonel Joseph F. Scott, superintendent of prisons of the state of New York, to reorganize the entire prison system of Massachusetts.

Information to this effect was received from Albany yesterday.

Scott on Way to Hub

Colonel Scott, it was learned, is now on his way to this city to confer with Governor Foss.

Colonel Scott, if he concludes to come to Massachusetts, will take the place at the head of the Massachusetts prison commission held by Fred G. Pettigrew.

The governor believes that the Charlestown state prison should be abolished and a big penal colony established where the prisoners could work in the open.

The governor believes that the present system undermines both the health and minds of the prisoners and defeats the supposed object of prisons—the reformation of the convicts.

Colonel Scott recently disagreed with

Governor Sulzer and tendered his resignation as superintendent of New York's prisons.

Formerly Bay State Official

He was for years the head of the Concord reformatory and, when he left Massachusetts nine years ago to become the superintendent of the Elmira, N. Y., reformatory, he was tendered a banquet at Young's hotel, at which the higher officials of the state, prominent members of the bench and bar, assembled to pay tribute to him.

In 1911, after serving as the head of the Elmira reformatory for eight years, he was made the head of the New York prisons by Governor Dix.

It is understood that he is desirous of returning to Massachusetts, and that it will not be difficult for Governor Foss to induce him to take the position at the head of the Massachusetts prison commission.

Colonel Scott, who was born in Vermont, and who is a giant in stature, his being 6 feet 4 inches tall, and weighing over 300 pounds, has for years fought against the old methods employed in penal institutions.

He is opposed to the horrors of "dark solitary" confinement; is against the old brutal "padding" and "tricing up," and frowns upon the bread and water and other methods of punishing prisoners.

Have You a Disordered Stomach and Liver?

Do you start the day feeling that the whole world is against you? You cannot hope to "make good" under these circumstances. Nobody can. You must have a clear brain and every organ in perfect trim to do justice to yourself.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

Will Bring Quick Relief

Dr. R. V. Pierce found years ago that a glyceric extract of Golden Seal and Oregon grape roots, queen's root and bloodroot with black cherry bark, would aid in the assimilation of the food in the stomach, correct liver ills and in nature's own way enrich the blood, tone the entire system and consequently help in the restoration of perfect health. Many who have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery testify that they have been restored to health when suffering from stomach and liver ills. Let this famous old medicine start today to lead you to health and strength.

Now—if you prefer—you can obtain Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription tablets of your druggist at $1 per box, also in 50c size or send 50 one-cent stamps to R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, for a trial box.

You can learn all about hygiene, anatomy, medicine, etc., from the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, a newly revised, up-to-date edition of which is now offered, in cloth covers, post-paid, for 21 cents in one-cent stamps, to cover cost of wrapping and mailing only. Address, Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Don't be poisoned by sluggish bowels. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar coated, tiny granules.

The Best Physicians Gave Him Up

"I was attacked with a severe nervous disease, which was diagnosed by a disordered stomach and liver. I was told by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., that I should take his Golden Medical Discovery, and I did so. My case had run so long, it had become so chronic, that nothing would effect a permanent cure, but Dr. Pierce's medicine has done much for me, and I highly recommend it. I heartily advise it to all who are afflicted with nervous diseases, and further advise people to take Dr. Pierce's medicine before their disease runs so long that there is no chance to be cured."

Bowlers Knock Pins in Every Direction

There were several very good matches rolled off at the Crescent alleys last night. The Shop and the Draftsmen of the Lowell-Saco bowling league were opponents. The Shop team winning all three strikes as well as the total. Goodchild of the defeated team was high man with a mark of 235 for his thirty fives.

Two teams in the Beaver Mills bowling league also scattered duck-pins around the Crescent alleys last evening. The Office and Drafting Dept. teams composed of but three men played two close games. The Office won in both contests. Williams, the Columbus look-alike, was the high man both in singles and totals.

Dying Dept.—R. Freeman, 266; B. Manning, 245; G. Freeman, 253. Total 762.

Office—Robinson, 257; Roughton, 259; Wilson, 261. Total, 800.

Office—Robinson, 257; Roughton, 259; Wilson, 261. Total, 800.

Drafting Dept.—R. Freeman, 266; B. Manning, 245; G. Freeman, 253. Total 762.

Shop—Sterling, 240; Grant, 271; Soule, 258; Blanchard, 221; Sharpe, 278. Total 1251.

Draftsmen—Goodchild, 250; McKnight, 212; Seabro, 231; Woodman, 213; Silcox, 219. Total 1194.

Billerica Men Bowled

The married and single men of the Billerica Republican club rolled on the Crescent alleys last night and the result was a victory for the single men.

The score:

Single Men—Garner, 224; Rutledge, 272; Boswick, 242; L. Perry, 265; Chandler, 282. Total 1285.

Married Men—R. Perry, 244; Davidson, 246; Chambers, 248; Nickerson, 253; Sub, 235. Total 1241.

Points by Default

The J. P. S. team failed to appear last night at the Moody Bridge alleys to play off their scheduled game with the L. O. M. bowling team.

The latter were awarded the game by default but rolled a practice three-string of 1315.

It looks as though the J. P. S. were sensible to stay away. The score:

L. O. M.—Dyer, 273; Blanchette,

243; Peltier, 245; Boucher, 254; Lebrun, 278. Total 1315.

Lowell Y. M. C. L. Won

The Lowell Y. M. C. L. bowled the Lawrence live in one of the fastest games of the season last night on the Lowell team's Belvidere alleys.

The Lowell rollers took the first and third strings of the match, winning by 40 pins. Johnson's single of 115 and total of 506 was the best match-bowling of the evening. The score:

Y. M. C. L.—Lowell—G. Clark, 254; P. Clark, 251; King, 269; Johnson, 266; Whalen, 331. Total 1412.

Lawrence—Chammy, 261; Wiegand, 273; Kennedy, 274; Ford, 263; Keegan, 258. Total 1322.

DEATHS

GLADWIN—Mrs. Elvira E. Gladwin, of 511 Bridge street, died yesterday at the Lowell General Hospital, aged 78 years. She was a member of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church and was a past president of James A. Baird Relief Corps, No. 32. She was a member of many other societies, including the Redcross and was well known throughout the city.

HUBBARD—Mr. George B. Hubbard, an old resident of this city, died last night at the home of his son, Charles P. Hubbard, 6 Luncens place, after a long illness, at the age of 82 years, 10 months and three days. He leaves his wife and son. The body was removed to the chapel of Undertaker William H. Saunders.

KANE—Richard Kane, aged 64 years, died last evening at the Chelmsford Street hospital. The remains were taken to the funeral chapel of J. P. O'Donnell & Sons.

HUGHES—Miss Rose Hughes, aged 65 years, a well-known and highly respected resident of this city, and a constant attendant of the Sacred Heart church, died this morning at the home of Mr. Charles A. Holden, 40 Moore street. She leaves to mourn her loss six nieces and four nephews, the latter being Charles and Leo Crowley of this city, Thomas Hughes of Providence and Joseph Hughes of New York. Friends will kindly omit flowers. Funeral notice later.

TRITES—Mary Trites, aged 41 years, died this morning at her home, 25 Girard street, Braintree. She leaves her husband, three sons and one daughter.

Card of Thanks

We, the undersigned, take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during the final illness and at the death of our beloved daughter and sister, Mrs. Margaret Kennedy. To one and all we are deeply grateful.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCoy and Family.

Aired Family Troubles

Billerica Man is Charged With Neglecting Family

There was quite a recital of family troubles in the police court this morning in the case of William J. Biggerstaff, who on a complaint by his wife, Mrs. Mary R. Biggerstaff was arraigned on a charge of neglect of minor children. W. A. Hogan appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Clemons of Waltham represented the defendant husband.

Mrs. Biggerstaff was the first to take the witness stand and she offered the testimony that she is a resident of Billerica and that her husband had left her early last December and since that time has not contributed to her support nor to that of her children. She stated that when he left he had about $700 in a bank which was so tied up as to be unavailable to her. She also said in reply to questions that on April 3, 1911, her husband had been sent to an asylum at Worcester and remained there for about six months, at the end of which time she had him released. Mr. Biggerstaff, she said, had given orders to the merchants of the town not to sell his wife anything on credit and so it was that she was unable to procure sufficient food, not having the necessary funds. She said that the income from the farm at present amounts to from $2 to $3 per week and that this is from the sale of eggs, for her husband forbade her to sell any of the best stock on the farm. She said that at present there is not sufficient food in the house for herself and children.

The defendant on the state testified that he had supported his wife, and in substance his testimony was a denial of the material allegations of his wife. Judge Enright took the case under advisement for one week at the conclusion of the argument and suggested that the contesting parties get together within that time and attempt to come to some agreement regarding a settlement outside the court.

Drunk Offenders

There were just six occupants of the cage in the court room this morning, and all of these were charged with drunkenness. Out of this number, Charles Shea and George McGowan paid fines of $6 each for second offenses. Mike Cassidy, Harry Beal, Thomas Ellis and James McKernan will reside for a time at the state farm.

TO PROTECT MILK MEN

Vermont Law Safeguards the Producers

MONTPELIER, Vt., Jan. 23.—The Vermont farmers will have their milk bills guaranteed in future through a law which became operative yesterday and compels all foreign creamery associations doing business in this state to file a bond of $5000 with the secretary of state.

A few years ago the farmers lost heavily through the failure of a foreign corporation which, in leaving the state, left behind milk bills amounting to many thousands of dollars.

Under the act, foreign corporations that do not settle their milk bills before the 15th of the following month may be held before the secretary of state, and if the delinquency continues after the 25th of the month, the farmer may collect from the bond.

The bill includes all dairy products.

Richwoods, Jan. 24, Associate.

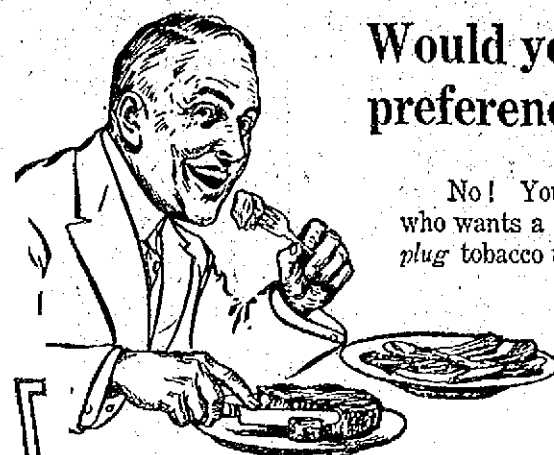

FUNERAL NOTICES

GILMORE.—The funeral of Robert Gilmore will take place from his late home, 95 Jenness street, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Private prayers at home. Services at the Edison cemetery at 11:30 o'clock. Friends invited. Undertaker Young in charge.

TAYLOR.—Died, at Melrose, Wednesday, Jan. 22, Frederick Withrop Taylor, oldest son of the late Frederick and Gertrude W. Taylor, aged 41 years. Prayers at his late residence, 33 Otis street, Melrose, Friday, Jan. 24th, at 10 a. m. Services at the Talbot Memorial chapel, Lowell, Mass., Friday, Jan. 24th, at 1 p. m. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

TEIXEIRA.—The funeral of Rosa Teixeira will take place from the home of her parents, John and Rosa Teixeira, 5 Elliot street, Braintree, on Saturday, Jan. 24th, at 10 o'clock. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery, under charge of Undertakers M. J. McDonough Sons.

MERRILL.—Died, Jan. 21st, in Worcester, Mrs. Hannah E. Merrill, aged 77 years, 4 months and 1 day. Mrs. Merrill's former residence was at 255 Westford street, this city, and she is survived by one brother, Ira O. Adams, of this city and one sister, Mrs. William Plaisant of York, Me. Funeral services will be held at the home of her brother, 31 Osgood street, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Friends are invited without further notice. Burial private. The funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

Would you eat dried beef in preference to a juicy steak?

No! You would take the steak! The man who wants a sweet, cool, fragrant smoke, prefers plug tobacco to sliced or granulated tobacco, because plug tobacco has more flavor and fragrance.

The real tobacco flavor depends upon the natural moisture in the leaf. The only way to preserve all this flavor is to press the leaves into plug form and keep the moisture in by covering it with a natural leaf wrapper.

leaves into plug form and keep the moisture in by covering it with a natural leaf wrapper.

Tin cans, cloth bags or waxed paper packages do not keep in all the moisture of granulated tobacco. Some of the flavor departs when the moisture evaporates. The drier tobacco is the hotter it smokes—the more it bites your tongue.

With Master Workman Plug you can cut a fresh pipeful whenever you smoke and everytime will find it the freshest—sweetest—smoothest—coolest tobacco you ever stuffed into a pipe. Try it today and convince yourself. You'll say Master Workman makes a sweet pipe sweeter.

GROWTH OF SOCCER GAME

Expert Writer Furnishes Accurate Account

In a January number of the Athletic News, Titurus, the well known authority on soccer football, makes mention of the wonderful increase in the popularity of the game during the past half dozen years. The game is booming all over the world, he says, and our cousins across the water are deeply interested in its growth and progress in America. The sporting writer mentioned predicts a brilliant future for the English soccer game in this country and so far everything seems to favor the fulfillment of his prophecy.

The following figures will give one an idea of the favor into which the game is fast springing.

Year	No. Clubs	No. Members
1904	276	12,641
1905	276	12,641
1906	438	24,362
1907	555	32,773
1908	730	44,361
1909	831	55,140
1910	1,053	62,124
1911	1,361	109,377
1912	1,630	137,663

As these figures are official and correct in every particular, it is quite clear that in Germany alone the game is no longer in its infancy—and these statistics, of course, do not take account of Austria, France, Belgium, Holland and Denmark, where the game is well established. I have only mentioned these continental countries in northern and central Europe where the game is a vogue.

In regard to the game being taken up by the colleges, Titurus said:

"As I have said again, association football is advancing as a popular game all over the world. In 'The American Cricketer' for December, a really excellent little magazine, I notice that at the University of Pennsylvania association football is rapidly assuming a place above that of minor sports. There are three teams and many good candidates for places. The attendance reports shows a daily average of over 60 candidates, over 40 of whom have had previous football experience. 'Moreover the game is springing up in the schools of Philadelphia. In connection with the colleges there is an inter-collegiate league, but unfortunately the faculty of Princeton at present prohibits that university from joining the league. 'If once the association code gets a firm grip on America we shall realize what enthusiasm can be, and what the ingenuity of an inventive and quick-thinking people can do.'"

BUNTING CRICKET CLUB

Will Hold Its Regular Quarterly Meeting in Elks Hall Friday Evening at 8 O'Clock

The Bunting cricket club will hold its regular quarterly meeting in Elks hall, Middle street tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The financial officers will submit their reports for the last three months for approval and several amendments to the by-laws will be acted upon. The board of directors intend to ask the members to vote favorably on the proposition to raise the dues of the members from one dollar to two dollars per year. It is also proposed to amend the by-laws so that in future all quarterly meetings of the club shall be held at the club house in Wigginsville instead of "down city" as formerly.

Olympics Celebrate

LAWRENCE, Jan. 23.—The Limps held their first annual dance last evening at Truett hall. The first Columbian orchestra furnished excellent music for dancing and Messrs. Gilmarth, Moxley and Grotch, the Olympic trio, gave vocal selections at intervals. The gathering was very enjoyable, especially so as the splendid victory the Limps gained over Andover on Saturday has aroused great enthusiasm among their supporters.

GALLANT BEATS NIXON

Good Bout at Manchester Last Night

MANCHESTER, N. H., January 23.—Gilbert Gallant of Chelsea shaded Billy Nixon of Cambridge in a 12-round bout in Manchester last night before a large crowd and received the decision. It was a fine exhibition of the boxing game, with few hard blows being delivered by either man, and both being apparently as fresh at the close, as when the bout opened.

Gallant was wild in almost every round, his best meant blows falling far short of the mark, but he showed cleverness in getting under Nixon's left hand punches. He shaded Nixon in seven of the rounds, and in none of the remaining five but Nixon have an undisputed lead.

In the semitinal Young Josephs of Lowell gave Young Mayo of Bliddeford a bad beating, the Maine boxer getting the better of the second round only.

In the preliminary Kid Demar and Young Bradley of Manchester, who plashed a rattling exhibition, with the honors even. Billy Walker was the referee.

KICK AT HIGH PRICES

Students Oppose Paying $2 for Hockey Game

There is certainly some vigorous kicking being done by the Harvard undergraduates on account of the exorbitant price-list for seats at the Yale-Harvard hockey game to be played at the Boston Arena Feb. 1. Seats are to be sold at 12 each and box reservations $2. These prices do not seem to appeal to the students' sense of proportion.

The price of tickets for the best seats, in fact the seats are all one price for the Yale-Harvard football game, is only $2. The students figure that if the greatest athletic event of the year is only $2, that the hockey game ought to be considerably less. Instead of more, which same seems very good logic.

The Boston Arena will accommodate about four thousand people, and the Harvard association could make hockey pay with a much smaller admission.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Johnny Dohan, the Bronx lightweight, left here last night for Lowell where on Friday night he meets Young McDonough of Manchester in a 12-round bout. Dohan closed a deal whereby he is to meet the winner of the Leach Cross-Young Shugrue match at New York in February. Dohan was also approached for a match with Young Brown, the boxer, who secured the popular award over Matt Wells, the dethroned English lightweight champion. The Bronx lightweight promises to be kept quite busy for the next month or more with all the matches that have been offered him. He has several dates to fill in New England cities after which he will return home and fill his New York dates. As soon as Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight, arrives here, Dohan will immediately look for a return match with the Drillsiter. Dohan already holds a 10-round draw with Welsh and is very anxious for another meeting as he feels certain that he can wipe out the draw decision. He is in perfect boxing form for his meeting with the hardy New Hampshire lightweight, McDonough.

The other bouts to be staged at the local club in conjunction with the Dohan-McDonough match are good ones, and include Doyle vs. Edwards, Kid Smith vs. Young Martin and Young Fiske vs. Jimmy Reardon. The first bout will start at 8.15 o'clock.

Latest music, Lincoln hall, tonight.

Bunting's Going to Methuen

If the weather man is kind, the Bunting will journey to Methuen on Saturday to play the down-river team in the game that has many shins. The soccer game is becoming more popular with each succeeding season as the attendance plainly demonstrates. The Bunting club is planning on putting a baseball team into the field this coming season, as there are many members of the club who prefer the American game to cricket. With the baseball and cricket teams playing on alternate dates there will certainly be no lack of athletic activity at the South Lowell club.

FOURTH DEGREE, K. OF C.

Held Banquet at Council Rooms Last Night

Members of the fourth degree, Knights of Columbus, of Lowell council assisted last evening around the festive board, in the banquet hall of the local organization, and there enjoyed an appetizing menu of several courses. The affair was confined strictly to members of the fourth degree, with a few out of town guests. When the coffee and cigars were served, Faithful Navigator Dr. Thomas P. Carroll opened the post prandial exercises with a short and appropriate address of welcome to those present, after which, he introduced Sir Knight Thomas J. Beane, toastmaster of the evening.

The following were the speakers of the evening, with the subjects of their discourses: Sir Knight Rev. James J. McCarthy, state chaplain, "The Church"; Sir Knight Louis Watson, state deputy K. of C., "The State Council"; Sir Knight Prof. Hugh J. Molloy, "Knighthood"; Sir Knight Dr. Timothy Hannon, vice president master fourth degree, "The Fourth Degree"; address, Rev. W. George Mullin, chaplain; and address, Sir Knight William F. Thornton.

A pleasant entertainment was furnished by Sir Knight William L. Gookin and Sir Knight James E. Donnelly, who gave his clever impersonations of Harry Lauder.

The banquet committee consisted of Sir Knights Robert R. Thomas, William F. Thornton, D. D. S. K. John A. Quinn, Thomas B. Delaney and James H. McKoon.

Among the other gentlemen present were the following: Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, Robert J. Thomas, John F. Adams, Charles H. Bagshaw, Frank Meador, Dr. Hugh Walker, Peter J. Paradis, Joseph J. Handley, Martin E. Fieldy, Thomas J. O'Donnell, Walter H. Hickey, Henry L. Bourke, Joseph E. Carroll, Timothy Coffey, John P. Welch, Richard Welch, Charles H. Hills of Woburn, Andrew Molloy, Roger J. Lane, Hugh Maguire, Edward Gaudy, Frederick Rooney, John Cunningham, John S. McNabb, Henry J. Heaps, Edward Saunders and William J. Collins.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Opera House
Charles Frohman will present John Drew in new comedy by Alfred Sutro, "The House of the Dead," at the Opera House tonight. The play has been held in London, where it has had a remarkable run this year, and the action takes place during three days. The play is a comedy, which is modern, touching as it does on the temporary subject of woman suffrage.

RAINEY'S PICTURES
One of the most interesting of the films shown in the pictures of Paul J. Rainey's African Hunt, which comes to the Opera House Monday, Jan. 27, for a week, is the picture of a lion, a lion of the striped hyena caught in a trap. In addition to killing such big game as lions, elephants and rhinoceroses, the hunter excelled in the endeavor to catch alive and bring back for zoos and parks, a number of hyenas, jackals and monkeys. For capturing these, padded traps were used, and the lion was placed in a tree while the hyenas were hidden underneath the trees, so that the animal would be caught while leaping for the bait. The hyena was caught in the padded traps, and the moving picture camera operator, by hiding behind shrubbery, was able to secure a photograph, unknown to the animal.

Great care had to be taken in handling the animal. The hyena feeds entirely on decaying flesh, and in consequence its bite is followed by an attack of blood poisoning, which in the tropic African climate results fatally in nine cases out of ten. The hyena shown here was brought back safely to New York, and is now in the Bronx Zoo.

Kelth's Theatre
Everybody has heard of the royal coronation at Kelth this week, and all who have attended thus far have pronounced it a real show in every particular. Headed by "A Night on a Houseboat," one of the very best of musical comedies, it includes Bert Melrose, pantomime clown; Harry Brooks & Co., in "The Old Minstrel Show," the Dancings, Mackie, Moore & St. Clair, the sister; Smith & Campbell, sidewalk conversationalists; Kenetzer, hoop roller, and Beaumier, xylophonist. Good seats may be secured for all performances during the week. Box office telephone number is 28.

Merrimack Square Theatre
There's a fine assortment of vaudeville at the Merrimack Square theatre, a sketch in which Edwin Keough & Co. are seen in one of the best of the kind ever presented at this theatre while the surrounding program is one that harmonizes in every way with the headline. "The Bully," that sensational subject which will be given in connection with the "Nihil" travelogue, is a comedy, for his act is given at this performance only for tomorrow night a new subject called "A Railroad Train 40 Feet in the Air," will be given. These subjects will be given in conjunction with the regular performance, patrons desiring seats would do well to obtain them now.

The Playhouse
One of the most enjoyable characters in this week's presentation by The Drama Players, A Bachelor's Romance, is the character of the secretary, portrayed by Thomas Carroll. Mr. Carroll, who is a Lowell man, has many friends and admirers here who never hesitate to express their hearty appreciation of his clever work from week to week. Orrin Shear, another member of the company whose efforts have been winning him many friends and admirers, for his artistic accomplishments are such as should suit the fancies of all lovers of the best that the stage has to offer.

The Kaskino
Smoothly and in perfect time with band music, the big procession rolls away many happy hours at the Kaskino, afternoon and evening, the spacious surface becomes the objective point for hundreds of happy skaters. The exercise is exhilarating and healthful.

Hilled at Last by Rebel Ball
BOSTON, Jan. 23.—A bullet from a Confederate rifle, fired 50 years ago at the Battle of Fair Oaks, yesterday caused the death of Charles E. Palmer, one of Melrose's best known residents.

$20,000 to Investigate Indians. WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—It will cost the government $20,000 to investigate the condition of the Crow Indians in Montana as proposed in a resolution adopted by the senate a few days ago, authorizing the department of justice to make the inquiry. Attorney General Wickersham has informed those urging the investigation that his department is without funds for the work and that it cannot be undertaken unless congress makes an allowance of at least $20,000.

Wants Ticket For Inauguration. WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—When Secretary D. Hilles opened the White House mail today he gasped with astonishment on reading a frank and free confession from a Washington woman that she had "broken into" the White House reception for years under false colors. Mr. Hilles would not disclose the identity of the writer, whose ingenuously, he acknowledged, commanded his admiration. The letter read:

"I have been attending the White House reception for years but I am tired of using some one else's ticket. Will you please send me one for the inauguration in my own name?"

PRINCIPAL WM. H. DOOLEY Receives Tempting Offer From Fall River

The committee on technical schools of Fall River, a sub-committee of the school board, has made a very attractive offer to William H. Dooley, principal of the Lowell Industrial school. Mr. Dooley went to Fall River yesterday to meet the committee, but the positive agreement was reached. The committee offered him $3000 a year for the day school, with the night school additional and the committee also told Mr. Dooley that he was the only one who was being considered for the position. The matter, however, has not been voted upon by the full board, (the school board of Fall River), but the favorable conclusion that the recommendation of the sub-committee will be adopted by the full board.

The committee made a careful canvass of the state before selecting Mr. Dooley and the fact that he has been selected by a committee that has gone thoroughly into the question of the most desirable man for the position reflects credit upon Lowell, where he is engaged as teacher, as well as upon the man made Mr. Dooley, who is a natural born educator and has the happy faculty of leading the students onward.

Mr. Dooley has not tendered his resignation to the board and to the Sun reporter who talked with him this morning he said he had not yet arrived at a positive decision in the matter. Mr. Dooley feels that it is just to himself he should accept the offer and in reply to a question as to what would be the result if Lowell should grant an increase sufficient to meet the figure named by Fall River, Mr. Dooley replied that Lowell's present financial condition would warrant it.

Mr. H. K. Lowell very much, said Mr. Dooley, "
